2.2.12 Professional discipline

(1) A contravention of this Part by an Australian lawyer who is not an Australian legal practitioner is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct.
(2) Nothing in this Part affects any liability that a person who is an Australian lawyer but not an Australian legal practitioner may have under Chapter 4, and the person may be punished for an offence under this Part as well as being dealt with under Chapter 4 in relation to the same matter.
PART 2.3—ADMISSION OF LOCAL LAWYERS

Division 1—Preliminary

2.3.1 Purposes

The purposes of this Part are—

(a) in the interests of the administration of justice and for the protection of consumers of legal services, to provide a system under which only applicants who have appropriate academic qualifications and practical legal training and who are otherwise fit and proper persons to be admitted are qualified for admission to the legal profession in this jurisdiction;

(b) to provide for the recognition of equivalent qualifications and training that makes applicants eligible for admission to the legal profession in other jurisdictions.

Division 2—Eligibility and suitability for admission

2.3.2 Eligibility for admission

(1) A person is eligible for admission to the legal profession under this Act only if the person—

(a) is a natural person aged 18 years or over; and

(b) has attained approved academic qualifications or corresponding academic qualifications; and

(c) has satisfactorily completed approved practical legal training requirements or corresponding practical legal training requirements.
(1A) The Council may require a person who seeks admission to the legal profession on the basis of having attained academic qualifications or completed practical legal training requirements outside Australia to pay the reasonable costs of the Council in assessing the person's qualifications or practical legal training.

(2) In this section—

approved academic qualifications means academic qualifications that are approved, under the admission rules, for admission to the legal profession in this jurisdiction;

approved practical legal training requirements means legal training requirements that are approved, under the admission rules, for admission to the legal profession in this jurisdiction;

corresponding academic qualifications means academic qualifications that would qualify the person for admission to the legal profession in another jurisdiction if the Board of Examiners is satisfied that substantially the same minimum criteria apply for the approval of academic qualifications for admission in the other jurisdiction as apply in this jurisdiction;

corresponding practical legal training requirements means legal training requirements that would qualify the person for admission to the legal profession in another jurisdiction if the Board of Examiners is satisfied that substantially the same minimum criteria apply for the approval of legal training requirements for admission in the other jurisdiction as apply in this jurisdiction.
2.3.3 Suitability for admission

(1) The Board of Examiners must, in deciding whether or not to recommend that a person is a fit and proper person to be admitted to the legal profession under this Act, consider—

(a) each of the suitability matters in relation to the person to the extent that a suitability matter is appropriate; and

(ab) whether the person is or has been the subject of disciplinary action, however described, arising out of the person’s conduct in—

(i) attaining approved academic qualifications or corresponding academic qualifications; or

(ii) completing approved practical legal training requirements or corresponding practical legal training requirements; and

(b) any other matter it considers relevant.

(2) However, the Board of Examiners may recommend that a person is a fit and proper person despite a suitability matter because of the circumstances relating to that matter.

(3) An education or training body must, at the written request of the Board of Examiners, produce for inspection or copying by the Board of Examiners any documents held by the body that are relevant to the Board of Examiners' consideration of a matter referred to in subsection (1)(ab).

(4) Subsection (3) does not apply unless the person to whom the document relates pays the reasonable costs of the education or training body in complying with the request.
(5) In this section—

approved academic qualifications, corresponding academic qualifications, approved practical legal training requirements and corresponding practical legal training requirements have the same meanings as in section 2.3.2; education or training body means a person or body that provides a course or other service for the purposes of allowing a person to—

(i) attain approved academic qualifications or corresponding academic qualifications; or

(ii) complete approved practical legal training requirements or corresponding practical legal training requirements.

(ii) is a fit and proper person to be admitted to the legal profession; and

(b) the person takes an oath of office, or makes an affirmation of office, in the form required by the Supreme Court.

(2) In determining whether or not to admit a person, the Supreme Court may rely on the recommendation of the Board of Examiners.

The admission of a person to the legal profession under this Act is effective from the time the person signs the local roll.
2.3.9 Local lawyer is officer of the Supreme Court

(1) On being admitted to the legal profession under this Act, a person becomes an officer of the Supreme Court.

(2) Subsection (1) does not confer on a person any right to bring proceedings in the Supreme Court, or any immunity from proceedings in any court, that the person would not have if he or she were not an officer of the Supreme Court.

(3) A person ceases to be an officer of the Supreme Court under subsection (1) if the person’s name is removed from the local roll.

(3) An appeal under subsection (1) is to be conducted as a hearing de novo.

Division 5—Admission rules

2.3.12 Admission Rules

(1) The Council may at a meeting make rules for or with respect to—

(a) academic qualifications required for admission to the legal profession;

(b) legal training required for admission to the legal profession;

(c) procedural requirements for applying for admission to the legal profession.

(2) The admission rules must not require a person to satisfactorily complete before admission a period of supervised training that exceeds in length a period or periods equivalent to one full-time year (as determined in accordance with the admission rules).

(2A) The admission rules may require an applicant for admission to give the Board of Examiners, or consent to the Board of Examiners obtaining, a report on the applicant's criminal record (if any) from—

(a) the Chief Commissioner of Police; or

(b) the police force, however described, of any place outside Victoria where the applicant attained academic qualifications, undertook practical legal training or engaged in legal practice.
(3) A power conferred by this section to make rules may be exercised—

(a) either in relation to all cases to which the power extends, or in relation to all those cases subject to specified exceptions, or in relation to any specified case or class of case; and

(b) so as to make, as respects the cases in relation to which the power is exercised—

(i) the same provision for all cases in relation to which the power is exercised, or different provisions for different cases or classes of case, or different provisions for the same case or class of case for different purposes; or

(ii) any such provision either unconditionally or subject to any specified condition.

(4) Rules made under this section may be made—

(a) so as to apply at all times or at a specified time; and

PART 2.4—LEGAL PRACTICE BY AUSTRALIAN LEGAL PRACTITIONERS

Division 1—Preliminary

2.4.1 Purposes

The purposes of this Part are—

(a) to facilitate the national practice of law by ensuring that Australian legal practitioners can engage in legal practice in this jurisdiction and to provide for the certification of Australian lawyers whether or not admitted in this jurisdiction;

(b) to provide a system for the granting and renewing of local practising certificates.

Division 2—Legal Practice in this jurisdiction by Australian legal practitioners

2.4.2 Entitlement of holder of Australian practising certificate to practise in this jurisdiction

An Australian legal practitioner is, subject to this Act, entitled to engage in legal practice in this jurisdiction.

Division 3—Local practising certificates generally

2.4.3 Local practising certificates

(1) Practising certificates may be granted by the Board under this Part.

(2) A local practising certificate is to be in a form approved by the Board.
(3) A local practising certificate is subject to the following conditions, as determined by the Board—

(a) a condition that the holder is authorised or not authorised to receive trust money; and

(b) a condition that the holder is authorised to engage in legal practice—

(i) as a principal of a law practice; or

(ii) as an employee of a law practice; or

(iii) as a volunteer at a community legal centre; or

(iv) as a corporate legal practitioner.

(4) A local practising certificate is also subject to—

(a) any conditions imposed on it under Division 5; and

(b) any conditions imposed on it by the Supreme Court; and

(c) the condition referred to in subsection (8).

(5) The conditions referred to in subsection (3) to which a local practising certificate is subject must appear on the face of the certificate.

(6) A local legal practitioner whose practising certificate is subject to a condition referred to in subsection (3)(b)(i), (ii) or (iv) is not required to hold a practising certificate that is subject to the condition referred to in subsection (3)(b)(iii) to engage in legal practice as a volunteer at a community legal centre.
(7) A local legal practitioner whose practising certificate is subject to the condition referred to in subsection (3)(b)(i) is not required—

(a) to hold a practising certificate that is subject to the condition referred to in subsection (3)(b)(ii) to engage in legal practice as an employee of a law practice; or

(b) to hold a practising certificate that is subject to the condition referred to in subsection (3)(b)(iv) to engage in legal practice as a corporate legal practitioner.

(8) It is a statutory condition of a local practising certificate that the holder must not hold another local practising certificate, or an interstate practising certificate, that is in force during the currency of the first-mentioned local practising certificate.

2.4.4 Suitability to hold local practising certificate

(1AA) This section has effect for the purposes of Division 4 of this Part or any other provision of this Act where the question of whether or not a person is a fit and proper person to hold a local practising certificate is relevant.

(1) The Board, in considering whether or not the person is, or is no longer, a fit and proper person to hold a local practising certificate, may take into account any suitability matter relating to the person, and any of the following, whether happening before or after the commencement of this section—

(a) whether the person obtained an Australian practising certificate because of incorrect or misleading information;

(b) whether the person has contravened a condition of an Australian practising certificate held by the person;
(c) whether the person has contravened this Act or a corresponding law or the regulations or legal profession rules under this Act or a corresponding law;

(d) whether the person has contravened—
   (i) an order of the Tribunal; or
   (ii) an order of a corresponding disciplinary body or of another court or tribunal of another jurisdiction exercising jurisdiction or powers by way of appeal or review of an order of a corresponding disciplinary body;

(e) without limiting any other paragraph—
   (i) whether the person has failed to pay a required contribution or levy to the Fidelity Fund; or
   (ii) whether the person has contravened a requirement imposed by the Board or the Liability Committee about professional indemnity insurance; or
   (iii) whether the person has failed to pay other costs or expenses for which the person is liable under this Act or the regulations;

(f) any other matter the Board thinks appropriate.

(2) A person may be considered a fit and proper person to hold a local practising certificate even though the person is within any of the categories of the matters referred to in subsection (1), if the Board considers that the circumstances warrant the determination.
(3) If a matter was—

(a) disclosed in an application for admission to the legal profession in this or another jurisdiction; and

(b) determined by the Board of Examiners or the Supreme Court, or by a body in another jurisdiction having jurisdiction to do so, not to be sufficient for refusing admission—the matter cannot be taken into account as a ground for refusing to grant or for cancelling a local practising certificate, unless later disclosures demonstrate that the matter is part of a course of conduct that may warrant refusal or cancellation.

Note

Section 2.4.7 provides that a local practising certificate must not be granted unless the Board is satisfied that the applicant is a fit and proper person to hold the certificate, and must not be renewed if it is satisfied that the applicant is not a fit and proper person to continue to hold the certificate.

2.4.5 Duration of local practising certificate

(1) A local practising certificate granted under this Act is in force from the date specified in it until the end of the financial year in which it is granted, unless the certificate is sooner suspended or cancelled.

(2) A local practising certificate renewed under this Act is in force until the end of the financial year following its previous period of currency, unless the certificate is sooner suspended or cancelled.

(3) If an application for the renewal of a local practising certificate has not been finally determined before 1 July in the year in which it was made, the certificate remains in force, unless suspended or cancelled sooner, until the application has been finally determined.
(4) For the purposes of subsection (3), an application is finally determined—

(a) by the renewal of the certificate; or

(b) by the exhaustion of all rights of review in relation to a decision to refuse to renew the certificate.

2.4.6 Local legal practitioner is officer of Supreme Court

A person who is not already an officer of the Supreme Court becomes an officer of the Supreme Court on being granted a local practising certificate.

Division 4—Grant or renewal of local practising certificates

2.4.7 Criteria for grant or renewal of local practising certificate

(1) The Board must not grant a local practising certificate unless it is satisfied that the applicant—

(a) was eligible to apply for the grant when the application was made; and

(b) is a fit and proper person to hold the certificate.

(2) The Board must not renew a local practising certificate if it is satisfied that the applicant—

(a) was not eligible to apply for the renewal when the application was made; or

(b) is not a fit and proper person to continue to hold the certificate.

2.4.8 Application for grant or renewal of local practising certificate

(1) An Australian lawyer may apply to the Board for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate if eligible to do so.
(2) An Australian lawyer is eligible to apply for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate if the lawyer complies with any regulations and legal profession rules relating to eligibility for the practising certificate and if—

(a) in the case of a lawyer who is not an Australian legal practitioner at the time of making the application—

(i) the lawyer reasonably expects to be engaged in legal practice solely or principally in this jurisdiction during the currency of the certificate or renewal applied for; or

(ii) if subparagraph (i) does not apply to the lawyer or it is not reasonably practicable to determine whether it applies to the lawyer—the lawyer's place of residence in Australia is this jurisdiction or the lawyer does not have a place of residence in Australia; or

(b) in the case of a lawyer who is an Australian legal practitioner at the time of making the application—

(i) the jurisdiction in which the lawyer engages in legal practice solely or principally is this jurisdiction; or

(ii) the lawyer holds a current local practising certificate and engages in legal practice in another jurisdiction under an arrangement that is of a temporary nature; or

(iii) the lawyer reasonably expects to be engaged in legal practice solely or principally in this jurisdiction during the currency of the certificate or renewal applied for; or
(iv) if subparagraph (i), (ii) or (iii) does not apply to the lawyer or it is not reasonably practicable to determine whether subparagraph (i), (ii) or (iii) applies to the lawyer—the lawyer's place of residence in Australia is this jurisdiction or the lawyer does not have a place of residence in Australia.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(b), the jurisdiction in which an Australian lawyer engages in legal practice principally is to be decided by reference to the lawyer's legal practice during the certificate period current at the time—

(a) the application is made; or

(b) in the case of a late application—the application should have been made.

(3A) An Australian lawyer is not eligible to apply for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate in respect of a financial year if the lawyer would also be the holder of another Australian practising certificate for that year, but this subsection does not limit the factors determining ineligibility to apply for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate.

(4) An Australian lawyer must not apply for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate if the lawyer is not eligible to make the application.

(5) An Australian legal practitioner who—

(a) engages in legal practice solely or principally in this jurisdiction during a financial year; and
(b) reasonably expects to engage in legal practice solely or principally in this jurisdiction in the following financial year—must apply for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate in respect of the following financial year.

(6) Subsection (5) does not apply to an interstate legal practitioner who applied for the grant or renewal of an interstate practising certificate on the basis that the practitioner reasonably expected to engage in legal practice solely or principally in this jurisdiction under an arrangement that is of a temporary nature.

(7) A reference in this section to engaging in legal practice principally in this or any other jurisdiction applies only to legal practice in Australia. Accordingly, an Australian lawyer who is engaged or expects to be engaged in legal practice principally in a foreign country is nevertheless eligible to apply for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate if the lawyer otherwise meets the requirements of this section.

Note

The purpose of this subsection is to deal with a case where a person practises both in Australia and overseas. In that case, overseas practice is to be disregarded (even if it forms the principal portion of the person's overall practice), so that eligibility is determined by reference only to the person's practice in Australia.
2.4.9 Manner of application and fees

(1) An application for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate—

(a) must be in a form approved by the Board; and

(b) must be accompanied by—

(i) the prescribed fee for the certificate; and

(ii) the required contribution to the Fidelity Fund (if any) under section 6.7.26; and

(iii) a statutory declaration in the form approved by the Board; and

(iv) satisfactory evidence, in a form approved by the Board, that the applicant is, or will be at the time of commencing to engage in legal practice, covered by professional indemnity insurance as required by this Act; and

(c) if the application is for the grant or renewal of a certificate that authorises the receipt of trust money, must also be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that the applicant has completed a course of study (if any) approved by the Board for the purposes of this Division.

(2) A person—

(a) who applies for the grant of a practising certificate during the first 3 months of a financial year; and
Part 2.4—Legal Practice by Australian Legal Practitioners

Legal Profession Act 2004
No. 99 of 2004

(b) who was a local legal practitioner immediately before the end of the previous financial year—must pay a surcharge of 200% of the prescribed fee for the certificate.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply if the application is accompanied by a statutory declaration from the applicant stating—

(a) that the applicant has not engaged in legal practice since the end of the previous financial year; and

(b) that, as at the end of the previous financial year, the applicant did not intend to engage in legal practice for at least the first 3 months of the current financial year; and

(c) the reasons why the intention referred to in paragraph (b) has changed.

(4) The Board may refund all or part of a surcharge paid under subsection (2) if it considers that there are special circumstances.

(4A) A fee or surcharge is not payable for a local practising certificate that authorises the holder to engage in legal practice only as a volunteer at a community legal centre.

(5) An applicant for renewal of a local practising certificate must, on or before 31 May, give the Board satisfactory evidence, in a form approved by the Board, that the applicant has professional indemnity insurance as required by this Act in respect of the year for which renewal of the practising certificate is sought.
(6) If, as at 31 May, an applicant for renewal of a local practising certificate—

(a) has not complied with subsection (5); or

(b) has not complied with section 3.3.54 in relation to the preceding audit year; or

(c) has not restored a deficiency in a trust account of the applicant as revealed by the examination report in relation to that account—the Board must give notice to the applicant on or before 15 June of the failure to comply or to restore the deficiency.

(7) Renewal of a local practising certificate does not take effect—

(a) in the circumstances referred to in subsection (6)(a) or (b)—until the applicant has remedied the failure to comply to the satisfaction of the Board; or

(b) in the circumstances referred to in subsection (6)(c)—until the deficiency has been restored to the satisfaction of the Board.

(8) If the renewal of a local practising certificate does not take effect because of subsection (7), the Australian lawyer must surrender the certificate to the Board within 14 days after being requested to do so by the Board, unless the renewal has taken effect in the meantime.

Penalty: 20 penalty units.
2.4.10 Timing of application for renewal of local practising certificate

An application for renewal of a local practising certificate must be made on or before 30 April (except as provided by section 2.4.11) or, in the case of a person who is not an Australian legal practitioner on 30 April, on or before 30 June.

2.4.11 Late application for renewal of practising certificate

(1) A local legal practitioner may apply for renewal of a local practising certificate after 30 April in any year on payment of a surcharge of—

(a) if the application is made on or before 31 May—25% of the prescribed fee for renewal of the certificate;

(b) if the application is made after 31 May—50% of the prescribed fee for renewal of the certificate.

(2) The Board may refund all or part of a surcharge paid under subsection (1) if it considers that there are special circumstances.

(3) This section does not apply to a person who was not a local legal practitioner on 30 April in the relevant year.

2.4.12 Grant or renewal of local practising certificate

(1) Within 30 days after receiving an application for the grant of a local practising certificate, the Board must—

(a) grant the certificate; or

(b) refuse to grant the certificate.

Note

The criteria to be applied by the Board in making this decision are set out in section 2.4.7.
(2) Within 60 days after receiving an application for renewal of a local practising certificate, the Board must—

(a) renew the certificate; or

(b) refuse to renew the certificate.

Note

The criteria to be applied by the Board in making this decision are set out in section 2.4.7.

(3) If the Board refuses to grant or renew a local practising certificate, it must give an information notice about the decision to the applicant.

Note

Section 2.4.37 provides a right to apply for review of the decision.

Division 5—Additional conditions on local practising certificates

2.4.13 Conditions generally

(1) A local practising certificate is subject to—

(a) any conditions determined by the Board under section 2.4.3(3); and

(2) If a condition is determined, imposed, varied or revoked under this Act (other than a statutory condition) during the currency of the local practising certificate concerned, the certificate is to be amended by the Board, or a new certificate is to be issued by the Board, to reflect on its face the imposition, variation or revocation.

(3) Within 14 days after a request from the Board, a local legal practitioner must give his or her local practising certificate to the Board if, under subsection (2)—

   (a) the Board requires the certificate for the purposes of amending it; or

   (b) the Board intends to issue a new certificate.

Penalty: 20 penalty units.

(4) A condition imposed by the Board or Tribunal must be reasonable and relevant.

(5) A condition imposed by the Board or the Tribunal may include any of the following—

   (a) requiring the holder of the practising certificate to undertake and complete an academic or training course;

   (b) controlling or restricting the operation of a trust account;

   (c) restricting the holder to particular conditions concerning employment or supervision;

   (d) a matter agreed by the holder.

(6) Subsection (5) does not limit the matters about which a condition may be imposed on a practising certificate by the Board or the Tribunal.
(7) If the Board or the Tribunal imposes, varies or revokes a condition during the currency of a local practising certificate, the condition, variation or revocation takes effect when the holder has been notified of it or at a later time specified by the Board or Tribunal (as the case requires).

2.4.14 Conditions imposed by the Board on grant or renewal

(1) The Board may impose conditions on a local practising certificate when it is granted or renewed.

Note
The Board may also impose conditions on a local practising certificate, or vary or revoke conditions, during the currency of the certificate—see sections 2.4.21, 2.4.24 and 2.4.28.

(2) If the Board decides to impose a condition on a local practising certificate under this section, it must give the applicant or holder an information notice about the decision.

Note
Section 2.4.37 provides a right to apply for review of the decision.

2.4.16 Imposition or variation of conditions pending criminal proceedings

(1) If a local legal practitioner has been charged with a relevant offence but the charge has not been determined, the Board may apply to the Tribunal for an order under this section.

(2) On an application under subsection (1), the Tribunal may make either or both of the following orders—
(a) an order varying the conditions on the practitioner's local practising certificate;

(b) an order imposing further conditions on the practitioner's local practising certificate.

(3) The Tribunal may make an order under this section only if the Tribunal considers it appropriate to do so, having regard to—

(a) the seriousness of the relevant offence; and

(b) the public interest.

(4) An order under this section has effect until the sooner of—

(a) the period specified by the Tribunal; or

(b) if the practitioner is convicted of the relevant offence—28 days after the day of the finding of guilt; or

(c) if the charge is dismissed or the practitioner is found guilty without the recording of a conviction—the day of the dismissal or the decision not to record a conviction; or

(d) if the finding of guilt is quashed on appeal—the day the finding of guilt is quashed.

(5) The Tribunal, on application by any party, may vary or revoke an order under this section at any time.

(6) In this section—

relevant offence means—

(a) an offence against Division 2 of Part I of the Crimes Act 1958; or

(b) an offence against the law of another jurisdiction, the Commonwealth or a foreign country that, in the opinion of the Tribunal, is equivalent to an offence against Division 2 of Part I of the Crimes Act 1958.

2.4.17 Statutory condition regarding conditions imposed on interstate admission

It is a statutory condition of a local practising certificate that the holder must not contravene a condition that was imposed on the admission of the person to the legal profession under a corresponding law (with any variations of the condition made from time to time) and that is still in force.

2.4.18 Statutory condition regarding supervised legal practice

(1) It is a statutory condition of a local practising certificate that the holder must engage in supervised legal practice only, until the holder has completed—

(a) if, to qualify for admission to the legal profession, the holder completed practical legal training—

(i) principally under the supervision of an Australian legal practitioner, whether involving articles of clerkship or otherwise; or

(ii) involving articles of clerkship principally under the supervision of a person other than an Australian legal practitioner in accordance with the admission rules—

a period or periods equivalent to 18 months' supervised legal practice, worked out under relevant regulations, after the day the holder's first practising certificate was granted; or
(b) if the holder completed other practical legal training to qualify for admission to the legal profession in this or another jurisdiction—a period or periods equivalent to 2 years' supervised legal practice, worked out under relevant regulations, after the day the holder's first practising certificate was granted.

(2) Subsection (1) has effect subject to any other conditions that relate to engaging in supervised legal practice after a period or periods referred to in that subsection.

(3) The Board may exempt a person or class of persons from the requirement for supervised legal practice under subsection (1) or may reduce a period referred to in that subsection for a person or class of persons, if satisfied that the person or persons do not need to be supervised or need to be supervised only for a shorter period, having regard to—

(a) the length and nature of any legal practice previously engaged in by the person or persons; and

(b) the length and nature of any legal practice engaged in by the supervisors (if any) who previously supervised the legal practice engaged in by the person or persons.

(4) An exemption under subsection (3) may be given unconditionally or subject to any conditions that the Board thinks appropriate.

(5) This section does not apply to—

(a) the holder of a local practising certificate who is a barrister; or

(b) a person who held an Australian practising certificate at any time before 12 December 2005.
(6) Nothing in subsection (5) prevents the Board or the Tribunal imposing a condition regarding supervised legal practice in relation to a person referred to in subsection (5)(b).

Division 6—Amendment, suspension or cancellation of local practising certificates

2.4.19 Application of Division

This Division does not apply in relation to matters referred to in Division 7.

2.4.20 Grounds for amending, suspending or cancelling local practising certificate

Each of the following is a ground for amending, suspending or cancelling a local practising certificate—

(a) the holder is no longer a fit and proper person to hold the certificate;

(b) the holder is not, or is no longer, covered by professional indemnity insurance that complies with this Act;

(c) if a condition of the certificate is that the holder is limited to legal practice specified in the certificate—the holder is or has been engaging in legal practice that the holder is not entitled to engage in under the certificate.

(1) An incorporated legal practice may provide any service and conduct any business that the corporation may lawfully provide or conduct, except as provided by this section.

(2) An incorporated legal practice (or a related body corporate) must not conduct a managed investment scheme.

(3) The regulations may prohibit an incorporated legal practice (or a related body corporate) from providing a service or conducting a business of a kind specified by the regulations.

2.7.6 Corporations eligible to be incorporated legal practice

(1) Any corporation is, subject to this Part, eligible to be an incorporated legal practice.

(2) This section does not authorise a corporation to provide legal services if the corporation is prohibited from doing so by any Act or law (whether of this jurisdiction, the Commonwealth or any other jurisdiction) under which it is incorporated or its affairs are regulated.

(3) An incorporated legal practice is not itself required to hold an Australian practising certificate.

2.7.7 Notice of intention to start providing legal services

(1) Before a corporation starts to engage in legal practice in this jurisdiction, the corporation must give the Board written notice, in the form approved by the Board, of its intention to do so.

(2) A corporation must not engage in legal practice in this jurisdiction if it is in default of this section. Penalty: 60 penalty units.

(3) A corporation that starts to engage in legal practice in this jurisdiction without giving notice under subsection (1) is in default of this section until it gives the Board written notice, in the form approved by the Board, of its failure to comply with that subsection and the fact that it has started to engage in legal practice.

(4) The giving of a notice under subsection (3) does not affect a corporation's liability under subsection (1) or (2).

2.7.8 Prohibition on representations that corporation is incorporated legal practice

(2) Each legal practitioner director of an incorporated legal practice is, for the purposes of this Act only, responsible for the management of the legal services provided in this jurisdiction by the incorporated legal practice.

(3) Each legal practitioner director of an incorporated legal practice must ensure that appropriate management systems are implemented and maintained to enable the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice—

(a) in accordance with the professional obligations of Australian legal practitioners and other obligations imposed by or under this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules; and

(b) so that those obligations of Australian legal practitioners who are officers or employees of the practice are not affected by other officers or employees of the practice.

(4) If it ought reasonably to be apparent to a legal practitioner director of an incorporated legal practice that the provision of legal services by the practice will result in breaches of the professional obligations of Australian legal practitioners or other obligations imposed by or under this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules, the director must take all reasonable action available to the director to ensure that—
(a) the breaches do not occur; and
(b) appropriate remedial action is taken in respect of breaches that do occur.

(6) Nothing in this Part derogates from the obligations or liabilities of a director of an incorporated legal practice under any other law.

(7) The reference in subsection (1) to a legal practitioner director does not include a reference to a person who is not validly appointed as a director, but this subsection does not affect the meaning of the expression legal practitioner director in other provisions of this Act.

2.7.11 Obligations of legal practitioner director relating to misconduct

(1) Each of the following is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct by a legal practitioner director—

(a) unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct of an Australian legal practitioner employed by the incorporated legal practice;

(c) the unsuitability of any other director (not being an Australian legal practitioner) of the incorporated legal practice to be a director of a corporation that provides legal services.

(1A) A legal practitioner director is not guilty of unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct under subsection (1) if the director establishes that he or she took all reasonable steps to ensure that—

(a) Australian legal practitioners employed by the incorporated legal practice did not engage in conduct or misconduct referred to in subsection (1)(a); or

(b) directors (not being Australian legal practitioners) of the incorporated legal practice did not engage in conduct referred to in subsection (1)(b); or

(5) The Board may, if it thinks it appropriate, appoint an Australian legal practitioner who is an employee of the incorporated legal practice or another Australian legal practitioner nominated by the Board, in the absence of a legal practitioner director, to perform the functions or duties conferred or imposed on a legal practitioner director under this Part.
(6) An Australian legal practitioner is not eligible to be appointed under this section unless the practitioner holds a practising certificate as a principal of a law practice.

(7) The appointment under this section of an Australian legal practitioner to perform functions or duties of a legal practitioner director does not, for any other purpose, confer or impose on the practitioner any of the other functions or duties of a director of the incorporated legal practice.

(8) An incorporated legal practice does not contravene subsection (1) during any period during which an Australian legal practitioner holds an appointment under this section in relation to the practice.

(9) A reference in this section to a legal practitioner director does not include a reference to a person who is not validly appointed as a director, but this subsection does not affect the meaning of the expression legal practitioner director in other provisions of this Act.

2.7.13 Obligations and privileges of practitioners who are officers or employees

(1) An Australian legal practitioner who provides legal services on behalf of an incorporated legal practice in the capacity of an officer or employee of the practice—

(a) is not excused from compliance with professional obligations as an Australian legal practitioner, or any obligations as an Australian legal practitioner under any law; and

(b) does not lose the professional privileges of an Australian legal practitioner.
(2) For the purposes only of subsection (1), the professional obligations and professional privileges of an Australian legal practitioner apply as if—

(a) where there are 2 or more legal practitioner directors of an incorporated legal practice—the practice were a partnership of the legal practitioner directors and the employees of the practice were employees of the legal practitioner directors; or

(b) where there is only one legal practitioner director of an incorporated legal practice—the practice were a sole practitioner and the employees of the practice were employees of the legal practitioner director.

(3) The law relating to client legal privilege (or other legal professional privilege) is not excluded or otherwise affected because an Australian legal practitioner is acting in the capacity of an officer or employee of an incorporated legal practice.

(4) The directors of an incorporated legal practice do not breach their duties as directors merely because legal services are provided pro bono by an Australian legal practitioner employed by the practice.

2.7.14 Conflicts of interest

(1) For the purposes of the application of any law (including the common law) or legal profession rules relating to conflicts of interest to the conduct of an Australian legal practitioner who is—

(a) a legal practitioner director of an incorporated legal practice; or
(b) an officer or employee of an incorporated legal practice—

the interests of the incorporated legal practice or any related body corporate are also taken to be those of the practitioner (in addition to any interests that the practitioner has apart from this subsection).

(2) Legal profession rules may be made for or with respect to additional duties and obligations in connection with conflicts of interest arising out of the conduct of an incorporated legal practice.

2.7.15 Disclosure obligations

(1) This section applies if a person engages an incorporated legal practice to provide services that the person might reasonably assume to be legal services, but does not apply if the practice provides only legal services in this jurisdiction.

(2) Each legal practitioner director of the incorporated legal practice, and any employee who is an Australian legal practitioner and who provides the services on behalf of the practice, must ensure that a disclosure, complying with the requirements of this section and the regulations made for the purposes of this section, is made to the person in connection with the provision of the services.

Penalty: 60 penalty units.

(3) The disclosure must be made by giving the person a notice in writing—

(a) setting out the services to be provided; and

(b) stating whether or not all the legal services to be provided will be provided by an Australian legal practitioner; and
(c) if some or all of the legal services will not be provided by an Australian legal practitioner—identifying those services and indicating the status or qualifications of the person or persons who will provide the services; and

(d) stating that this Act applies to the provision of legal services but not to the provision of the non-legal services.

(4) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the following matters—

(a) the manner in which disclosure is to be made;

(b) additional matters required to be disclosed in connection with the provision of legal services or non-legal services by an incorporated legal practice.

(5) Without limiting subsection (4), the additional matters may include the kind of services provided by the incorporated legal practice and whether those services are or are not covered by the insurance or other provisions of this Act.

(6) A disclosure under this section to a person about the provision of legal services may relate to the provision of legal services on one occasion or on more than one occasion or on an on-going basis.

2.7.16 Effect of non-disclosure of provision of certain services

(1) This section applies if—

(a) section 2.7.15 applies in relation to a service that is provided to a person who has engaged an incorporated legal practice to provide the service and that the person might reasonably assume to be a legal service; and
(b) a disclosure has not been made under that section in relation to the service.

(2) The standard of care owed by the incorporated legal practice in respect of the service is the standard that would be applicable if the service had been provided by an Australian legal practitioner.

2.7.17 Application of legal profession rules

Legal profession rules, so far as they apply to Australian legal practitioners, also apply to Australian legal practitioners who are officers or employees of an incorporated legal practice, unless the rules otherwise provide.

2.7.18 Requirements relating to advertising

(1) Any restriction imposed by or under this or any other Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules in connection with advertising by Australian legal practitioners applies to advertising by an incorporated legal practice with respect to the provision of legal services.

(2) If a restriction referred to in subsection (1) is limited to a particular branch of the legal profession or for persons who practise in a particular style of legal practice, the restriction applies only to the extent that the incorporated legal practice carries on the business in that branch of the legal profession or in that style of legal practice.

(3) Any advertisement of the kind referred to in this section is, for the purposes of disciplinary proceedings taken against an Australian legal practitioner, taken to have been authorised by each legal practitioner director of the incorporated legal practice.
Part 2.7—Incorporated Legal Practices and Multi-disciplinary Partnerships

2.7.19 Extension of vicarious liability relating to failure to account, pay or deliver and dishonesty to incorporated legal practices

(1) This section applies to any of the following proceedings (being proceedings based on the vicarious liability of an incorporated legal practice)—

(a) civil proceedings relating to a failure to account for, pay or deliver money or property received by, or entrusted to, the practice (or to any officer or employee of the practice) in the course of the provision of legal services by the practice, being money or property under the direct or indirect control of the practice;

(b) civil proceedings for any other debt owed, or damages payable, to a client as a result of a dishonest act or omission by an Australian legal practitioner who is an employee of the practice in connection with the provision of legal services to the client.

(2) If the incorporated legal practice would not (but for this section) be vicariously liable for any acts or omissions of its officers and employees in those proceedings, but would be liable for those acts or omissions if the practice and those officers and employees were carrying on business in partnership, the practice is taken to be vicariously liable for those acts or omissions.
2.7.20 Sharing of receipts, revenue or other income

(1) Nothing in this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules prevents an Australian legal practitioner from sharing with an incorporated legal practice receipts, revenue or other income arising from the provision of legal services by the practitioner.

(c) shares the receipts, revenue or other income arising from the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice; or

(d) is engaged or paid in connection with the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice.

Penalty: 120 penalty units.
(2) The failure of a legal practitioner director of an incorporated legal practice to ensure that the practice complies with subsection (1) is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct.

2.7.22 Audit of incorporated legal practice

(1) The Board may conduct an audit of—

(a) the compliance of an incorporated legal practice (and of its officers and employees) with the requirements of—

(i) this Part; or

(b) the management of the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice (including the supervision of officers and employees providing the services).

(4) A person who is subject to a requirement under subsection (1) or (2) must comply with the requirement.

Penalty: 60 penalty units.

(2) An order under this section may, if the Supreme Court thinks it appropriate, be made—

(a) subject to conditions as to the conduct of the incorporated legal practice; or

(c) together with orders to safeguard the interests of clients or employees of the incorporated legal practice.

(3) Action may be taken against an incorporated legal practice on any of the following grounds—

(a) that a legal practitioner director or an Australian legal practitioner who is an officer or employee of the corporation is found guilty of professional misconduct under a law of this jurisdiction or another jurisdiction;
(b) that the Board is satisfied, after conducting an audit of the incorporated legal practice, that the incorporated legal practice has failed to implement satisfactory management and supervision of its provision of legal services;

(c) that the incorporated legal practice (or a related body corporate) has contravened section 2.7.5 or the regulations made under that section;

(d) that the incorporated legal practice has contravened section 2.7.21;

(e) that a person is acting in the management of the incorporated legal practice who is the subject of an order under—

   (i) section 2.7.25 or under provisions of a corresponding law that correspond to that section; or

   (ii) section 2.7.50 or under provisions of a corresponding law that correspond to that section.

(4) If a corporation is disqualified under this section, the Board must, as soon as practicable, notify the corresponding authority of every other jurisdiction.

(5) If a corporation is disqualified from providing legal services in another jurisdiction under a corresponding law, the Board may determine that the corporation is taken to be disqualified from providing legal services in this jurisdiction for the same period, but nothing in this subsection prevents the Board from instead applying for an order under this section.
(6) A corporation that provides legal services in contravention of a disqualification under this section is guilty of an offence.
Penalty: 240 penalty units.

(7) A corporation that is disqualified under this section ceases to be an incorporated legal practice.

(8) Conduct of an Australian legal practitioner who provides legal services on behalf of a corporation in the capacity of an officer or employee of the corporation is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct if the practitioner ought reasonably to have known that the corporation is disqualified under this section.

(9) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the publication and notification of orders made under this section, including notification of corresponding authorities of other jurisdictions.

2.7.25 Disqualification from managing incorporated legal practice

(1) The Supreme Court may, on the application of the Board, make an order disqualifying a person from managing a corporation that is an incorporated legal practice for the period the Court considers appropriate if satisfied that—

(a) the person is a person who could be disqualified under section 206C, 206D, 206E or 206F of the Corporations Act from managing corporations; and

(b) the disqualification is justified.

(2) The Supreme Court may, on the application of a person subject to a disqualification order under this section, revoke the order.
(3) A disqualification order made under this section has effect for the purposes only of this Act and does not affect the application or operation of the Corporations Act.

(4) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the publication and notification of orders made under this section.

(5) A person who is disqualified from managing a corporation under provisions of a corresponding law that correspond to this section is taken to be disqualified from managing a corporation under this section.

2.7.26 Disclosure of information to Australian Securities and Investments Commission

(1) This section applies if the Board, in connection with performing functions under this Act, acquired information concerning a corporation that is or was an incorporated legal practice.

(2) The Board may disclose to the Australian Securities and Investments Commission information concerning the corporation that is relevant to the Commission's functions.

(3) Information may be provided under subsection (2) despite any law relating to secrecy or confidentiality, including any provisions of this Act.

2.7.27 External administration proceedings under Corporations Act

(1) This section applies to proceedings in any court under Chapter 5 (External administration) of the Corporations Act—

(a) relating to a corporation that is an externally-administered body corporate under that Act and that is or was an incorporated legal practice; or
(b) relating to a corporation that is or was an incorporated legal practice becoming an externally-administered body corporate under that Act.

(2) The Board is entitled to intervene in the proceedings, unless the court determines that the proceedings do not concern or affect the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice.

(3) The court may, when exercising its jurisdiction in the proceedings, have regard to the interests of the clients of the incorporated legal practice who have been or are to be provided with legal services by the practice.

(4) Subsection (3) does not authorise the court to make any decision that is contrary to a specific provision of the Corporations Act.

(5) The provisions of subsections (2) and (3) are declared to be Corporations legislation displacement provisions for the purposes of section 5G of the Corporations Act in relation to the provisions of Chapter 5 of that Act.

Note
Section 5G of the Corporations Act provides that if a State law declares a provision of a State law to be a Corporations legislation displacement provision, any provision of the Corporations legislation with which the State provision would otherwise be inconsistent does not apply to the extent necessary to avoid the inconsistency.

2.7.28 External administration proceedings under other legislation

(1) This section applies to proceedings for the external administration (however expressed) of an incorporated legal practice, but does not apply to proceedings to which section 2.7.27 applies.
(2) The Board is entitled to intervene in the proceedings, unless the court determines that the proceedings do not concern or affect the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice.

(3) The court may, when exercising its jurisdiction in the proceedings, have regard to the interests of the clients of the incorporated legal practice who have been or are to be provided with legal services by the practice.

(4) Subsection (3) does not authorise the court to make any decision that is contrary to a specific provision of any legislation applicable to the incorporated legal practice.

2.7.29 Incorporated legal practice that is subject to receivership under this Act and external administration under the Corporations Act

(1) This section applies if an incorporated legal practice is the subject of both—

(a) the appointment of a Chapter 5 receiver; and

(b) the appointment of a Corporations Act administrator.

(2) The Chapter 5 receiver is under a duty to notify the Corporations Act administrator of the appointment of the Chapter 5 receiver, whether the appointment precedes, follows or is contemporaneous with the appointment of the Corporations Act administrator.

(3) The Chapter 5 receiver or the Corporations Act administrator (or both of them jointly) may apply to the Supreme Court for the resolution of issues arising from or in connection with the dual appointments and their respective powers, except where proceedings referred to in section 2.7.27 have been commenced.
(4) The Supreme Court may make any orders it considers appropriate, and no liability attaches to the Chapter 5 receiver or the Corporations Act administrator for any act or omission done by the receiver or administrator in good faith for the purpose of carrying out or acting in accordance with the orders.

(5) The Board is entitled to intervene in the proceedings, unless the court determines that the proceedings do not concern or affect the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice.

(6) The provisions of subsections (3) and (4) are declared to be Corporations legislation displacement provisions for the purposes of section 5G of the Corporations Act in relation to the provisions of Chapter 5 of that Act.

(7) In this section—

Chapter 5 receiver means a receiver appointed under Chapter 5;

Corporations Act administrator means—

(a) a receiver, receiver and manager, liquidator (including a provisional liquidator), controller, administrator or deed administrator appointed under the Corporations Act; or

(b) a person who is appointed to exercise powers under that Act and who is prescribed, or of a class prescribed, by the regulations for the purposes of this definition.
2.7.30 Incorporated legal practice that is subject to receivership under this Act and external administration under other legislation

(1) This section applies if an incorporated legal practice is the subject of both—

   (a) the appointment of a Chapter 5 receiver; and

   (b) the appointment of an external administrator.

(2) The Chapter 5 receiver is under a duty to notify the external administrator of the appointment of the Chapter 5 receiver, whether the appointment precedes, follows or is contemporaneous with the appointment of the external administrator.

(3) The Chapter 5 receiver or the external administrator (or both of them jointly) may apply to the Supreme Court for the resolution of issues arising from or in connection with the dual appointments and their respective powers.

(4) The Supreme Court may make any orders it considers appropriate, and no liability attaches to the Chapter 5 receiver or the external administrator for any act or omission done by the receiver or administrator in good faith for the purpose of carrying out or acting in accordance with the orders.

(5) The Board is entitled to intervene in the proceedings, unless the court determines that the proceedings do not concern or affect the provision of legal services by the incorporated legal practice.

(6) In this section—

Chapter 5 receiver means a receiver appointed under Chapter 5; external administrator means a person who is appointed to exercise powers under other legislation (whether or not of this jurisdiction) and who is prescribed, or of a class prescribed, by the regulations for the purposes of this definition.

2.7.31 Co-operation between courts

Courts of this jurisdiction may make arrangements for communicating and co-operating with other courts or tribunals in connection with the exercise of powers under this Part.

2.7.32 Relationship of Act to constitution of incorporated legal practice

The provisions of this Act or the regulations that apply to an incorporated legal practice prevail, to the extent of any inconsistency, over the constitution or other constituent documents of the practice.

2.7.33 Relationship of Act to legislation establishing incorporated legal practice

(1) This section applies to a corporation that is established by or under a law (whether or not of this jurisdiction), is an incorporated legal practice, but is not a company within the meaning of the Corporations Act.

(2) The provisions of this Act or the regulations that apply to an incorporated legal practice prevail, to the extent of any inconsistency, over provisions of the legislation by or under which the corporation is established or regulated that are specified or described in the regulations.

2.7.34 Relationship of Act to Corporations legislation

(1) The regulations may declare any provision of this Act or the regulations that relates to an incorporated legal practice to be a Corporations legislation displacement provision for the purposes of section 5G of the Corporations Act.
(2) The regulations may declare any matter relating to an incorporated legal practice that is prohibited, required, authorised or permitted by or under this Act or the regulations to be an excluded matter for the purposes of section 5F of the Corporations Act in relation to—

(a) the whole of the Corporations legislation; or

(b) a specified provision of the Corporations legislation; or

(c) the Corporations legislation other than a specified provision; or

(d) the Corporations legislation other than to a specified extent.

(3) In this section—

matter includes act, omission, body, person or thing.

2.7.35 Undue influence

A person (whether or not an officer or employee of an incorporated legal practice) must not cause or induce or attempt to cause or induce—

(a) a legal practitioner director; or

(b) another Australian legal practitioner who provides legal services on behalf of an incorporated legal practice—to contravene this Act, the regulations, the legal profession rules or his or her professional obligations as an Australian legal practitioner.

Penalty: 240 penalty units.
Division 3—Multi-disciplinary partnerships

2.7.36 Nature of multi-disciplinary partnership

(1) A multi-disciplinary partnership is a partnership between one or more Australian legal practitioners and one or more other persons who are not Australian legal practitioners, where the business of the partnership includes the provision of legal services in this jurisdiction as well as other services.

(2) However, a partnership consisting only of one or more Australian legal practitioners and one or more Australian-registered foreign lawyers is not a multi-disciplinary partnership.

(3) Nothing in this Part affects or applies to the provision by a multi-disciplinary partnership of legal services in one or more other jurisdictions.

2.7.37 Conduct of multi-disciplinary partnerships

(1) An Australian legal practitioner may be in partnership with a person who is not an Australian legal practitioner, where the business of the partnership includes the provision of legal services.

(2) Subsection (1) does not prevent an Australian legal practitioner from being in partnership with a person who is not an Australian legal practitioner, where the business of the partnership does not include the provision of legal services.

(3) The regulations may prohibit an Australian legal practitioner from being in partnership with a person providing a service or conducting a business of a kind specified by the regulations, where the business of the partnership includes the provision of legal services.
2.7.38 Notice of intention to start practice in multi-disciplinary partnership

A legal practitioner partner must, before starting to provide legal services in this jurisdiction as a member of a multi-disciplinary partnership, give the Board written notice, in the form approved by the Board, of his or her intention to do so.

Penalty: 10 penalty units.

2.7.39 General obligations of legal practitioner partners

(1) Each legal practitioner partner of a multi-disciplinary partnership is, for the purposes only of this Act, responsible for the management of the legal services provided in this jurisdiction by the partnership.

(2) Each legal practitioner partner must ensure that appropriate management systems are implemented and maintained to enable the provision of legal services by the multi-disciplinary partnership—

(a) in accordance with the professional obligations of Australian legal practitioners and the other obligations imposed by this Act, the regulations and the legal profession rules; and

(b) so that the professional obligations of legal practitioner partners and employees who are Australian legal practitioners are not affected by other partners and employees of the partnership.

* * * * *
2.7.40 Obligations of legal practitioner partner relating to misconduct

(1) Each of the following is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct by a legal practitioner partner—

(a) unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct of an Australian legal practitioner employed by the multi-disciplinary partnership;

(b) conduct of any other partner (not being an Australian legal practitioner) of the multi-disciplinary partnership that adversely affects the provision of legal services by the partnership;

(c) the unsuitability of any other partner (not being an Australian legal practitioner) of the multi-disciplinary partnership to be a member of a partnership that provides legal services.

(2) A legal practitioner partner of a multi-disciplinary partnership must ensure that all reasonable action available to the legal practitioner partner is taken to deal with any unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct of an Australian legal practitioner employed by the partnership.

* * * * *

S. 2.7.40(3) repealed by No. 18/2005 s. 8.
2.7.41 Actions of partner who is not an Australian legal practitioner

A partner of a multi-disciplinary partnership who is not an Australian legal practitioner does not contravene a provision of this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules merely because of any of the following—

(a) the partner is a member of a partnership where the business of the partnership includes the provision of legal services;

(b) the partner receives any fee, gain or reward for business of the partnership that is the business of an Australian legal practitioner;

(c) the partner holds out, advertises or represents himself or herself as a member of a partnership where the business of the partnership includes the provision of legal services;

(d) the partner shares with any other partner the receipts of business of the partnership that is the business of an Australian legal practitioner—unless the provision expressly applies to a partner of a multi-disciplinary partnership who is not an Australian legal practitioner.

2.7.42 Obligations and privileges of practitioners who are partners or employees

(1) An Australian legal practitioner who provides legal services in the capacity of a partner or an employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership—

(a) is not excused from compliance with professional obligations as an Australian legal practitioner, or any other obligations as an Australian legal practitioner under any law; and
Part 2.7—Incorporated Legal Practices and Multi-disciplinary Partnerships

Legal Profession Act 2004
No. 99 of 2004

(b) does not lose the professional privileges of an Australian legal practitioner.

(2) The law relating to client legal privilege (or other legal professional privilege) is not excluded or otherwise affected because an Australian legal practitioner is acting in the capacity of a partner or an employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership.

2.7.43 Conflicts of interest

(1) For the purposes of the application of any law (including the common law) or legal profession rules relating to conflicts of interest to the conduct of an Australian legal practitioner who is—

(a) a legal practitioner partner of a multi-disciplinary partnership; or

(b) an employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership—

the interests of the partnership, or any partner of the multi-disciplinary partnership, are also taken to be those of the practitioner concerned (in addition to any interests that the practitioner has apart from this subsection).

(2) Legal profession rules may be made for or with respect to additional duties and obligations in connection with conflicts of interest arising out of the conduct of a multi-disciplinary partnership.

Note

Under section 2.7.42, an Australian legal practitioner who is a partner or employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership must comply with the same professional obligations as other practitioners.
2.7.44 Disclosure obligations

(1) This section applies if a person engages a multi-disciplinary partnership to provide services that the person might reasonably assume to be legal services.

(2) Each legal practitioner partner of the multi-disciplinary partnership, and any employee of the partnership who is an Australian legal practitioner and who provides the services on behalf of the partnership, must ensure that a disclosure, complying with the requirements of this section, and the regulations made for the purposes of this section, is made to the person in connection with the provision of the services.

Penalty: 60 penalty units.

(3) The disclosure must be made by giving the person a notice in writing—

(a) setting out the services to be provided; and

(b) stating whether or not all the legal services to be provided will be provided by an Australian legal practitioner; and

(c) if some or all of the legal services to be provided will not be provided by an Australian legal practitioner—identifying those services and indicating the status or qualifications of the person or persons who will provide the services; and

(d) stating that this Act applies to the provision of legal services but not to the provision of the non-legal services.
(4) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the following matters—
   (a) the manner in which disclosure is to be made;
   (b) additional matters required to be disclosed in connection with the provision of legal services or non-legal services by a multi-disciplinary partnership.

(5) Without limiting subsection (4), the additional matters may include the kind of services provided by the multi-disciplinary partnership and whether those services are or are not covered by the insurance or other provisions of this Act.

(6) A disclosure under this section to a person about the provision of legal services may relate to the provision of legal services on one occasion or on more than one occasion or on an on-going basis.

2.7.45 Effect of non-disclosure of provision of certain services

(1) This section applies if—
   (a) section 2.7.44 applies in relation to a service that is provided to a person who has engaged a multi-disciplinary partnership to provide the service and that the person might reasonably assume to be a legal service; and
   (b) a disclosure has not been made under that section in relation to the service.

(2) The standard of care owed by the multi-disciplinary partnership in respect of the service is the standard that would be applicable if the service had been provided by an Australian legal practitioner.
2.7.46 Application of legal profession rules

Legal profession rules, so far as they apply to Australian legal practitioners, also apply to Australian legal practitioners who are legal practitioner partners or employees of a multi-disciplinary partnership, unless the rules otherwise provide.

2.7.47 Requirements relating to advertising

(1) Any restriction imposed by or under this or any other Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules in connection with advertising by Australian legal practitioners applies to advertising by a multi-disciplinary partnership with respect to the provision of legal services.

(2) If a restriction referred to in subsection (1) is limited to a particular branch of the legal profession or for persons who practise in a particular style of legal practice, the restriction applies only to the extent that the multi-disciplinary partnership carries on the business of the relevant class of Australian legal practitioners.

(3) An advertisement of the kind referred to in this section is, for the purposes of disciplinary proceedings taken against an Australian legal practitioner, taken to have been authorised by each legal practitioner partner of the multi-disciplinary partnership.

(4) This section does not apply if the provision by which the restriction is imposed expressly excludes its application to multi-disciplinary partnerships.
2.7.48 Sharing of receipts, revenue or other income

(1) Nothing in this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules prevents a legal practitioner partner, or an Australian legal practitioner who is an employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership, from sharing receipts, revenue or other income arising from the provision of legal services by the partner or practitioner with a partner or partners who are not Australian legal practitioners.

(2) This section does not extend to the sharing of receipts, revenue or other income in contravention of section 2.7.49 or any legal profession rules referred to in section 3.2.6(d).

2.7.49 Disqualified persons

(1) A legal practitioner partner of a multi-disciplinary partnership must not knowingly—

(a) be a partner of a disqualified person in the multi-disciplinary partnership; or

(b) share with a disqualified person the receipts, revenue or other income arising from the provision of legal services by the multi-disciplinary partnership; or

(c) employ or pay a disqualified person in connection with the provision of legal services by the multi-disciplinary partnership.
2.7.50 Prohibition on partnerships with certain partners who are not Australian legal practitioners

(1) This section applies to a person who—
   (a) is not an Australian legal practitioner; and
   (b) is or was a partner of an Australian legal practitioner.

(2) On application by the Board, the Supreme Court may make an order prohibiting any Australian legal practitioner from being a partner, in a business that includes the provision of legal services, of a specified person to whom this section applies if—
   (a) the Court is satisfied that the person is not a fit and proper person to be a partner; or
   (b) the Court is satisfied that the person has been guilty of conduct that, if the person were an Australian legal practitioner, would have constituted unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct; or
   (c) in the case of a corporation, if the Court is satisfied that the corporation has been disqualified from providing legal services in this jurisdiction or there are grounds for disqualifying the corporation from providing legal services in this jurisdiction.

(3) An order made under this section may be revoked by the Supreme Court on application by the Board or by the person against whom the order was made.

(4) The death of an Australian legal practitioner does not prevent an application being made for, or the making of, an order under this section in relation to a person who was a partner of the practitioner.
(5) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the publication and notification of orders made under this section.

2.7.51 Undue influence

A person (whether or not a partner, or employee, of a multi-disciplinary partnership) must not cause or induce or attempt to cause or induce—

(a) a legal practitioner partner; or

(b) an employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership who provides legal services and who is an Australian legal practitioner—to contravene this Act, the regulations, the legal profession rules or his or her professional obligations as an Australian legal practitioner.

Penalty: 240 penalty units.

Division 4—Miscellaneous

2.7.52 Obligations of individual practitioners not affected

Except as provided by this Part, nothing in this Part affects any obligation imposed on—

(a) a legal practitioner director or an Australian legal practitioner who is an employee of an incorporated legal practice; or

(b) a legal practitioner partner or an Australian legal practitioner who is an employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership—under this or any other Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules in his or her capacity as an Australian legal practitioner.
2.7.53 Regulations

(1) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the following matters—

(a) the legal services provided by incorporated legal practices or legal practitioner partners or employees of multi-disciplinary partnerships;

(b) other services provided by incorporated legal practices or legal practitioner partners or employees of multi-disciplinary partnerships in circumstances where a conflict of interest relating to the provision of legal services may arise.

(2) A regulation prevails over any inconsistent provision of the legal profession rules.

(3) A regulation may provide that a contravention of the regulations is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct—

(a) in the case of an incorporated legal practice—by a legal practitioner director, or by an Australian legal practitioner responsible for the contravention, or both; or

(b) in the case of a multi-disciplinary partnership—by a legal practitioner partner, or by an Australian legal practitioner responsible for the contravention, or both.
PART 2.8—LEGAL PRACTICE BY FOREIGN LAWYERS

Division 1—Preliminary

2.8.1 Purpose

The purpose of this Part is to encourage and facilitate the internationalisation of legal services and the legal services sector by providing a framework for the regulation of the practice of foreign law in this jurisdiction by foreign lawyers as a recognised aspect of legal practice in this jurisdiction.

2.8.2 Definitions

In this Part—

* * * * *

foreign law means law of a foreign country;

foreign law practice means a partnership or corporate entity that is entitled to engage in legal practice in a foreign country;

foreign registration authority means an entity in a foreign country having the function, conferred by the law of the foreign country, of registering persons to engage in legal practice in the foreign country;
local registration certificate means a registration certificate given under this Part; overseas-registered foreign lawyer means a natural person who is properly registered to engage in legal practice in a foreign country by the foreign registration authority for the country;

practise foreign law means doing work, or transacting business, in this jurisdiction concerning foreign law, being work or business of a kind that, if it concerned the law of this jurisdiction, would ordinarily be done or transacted by an Australian legal practitioner; registered, when used in connection with a foreign country, means having all necessary licences, approvals, admissions, certificates or other forms of authorisation (including practising certificates) required by or under legislation for engaging in legal practice in that country.

Note
The terms Australian-registered foreign lawyer, foreign country, interstate-registered foreign lawyer and locally registered foreign lawyer are defined in section 1.2.1.

2.8.3 This Part does not apply to Australian legal practitioners

(1) This Part does not apply to an Australian legal practitioner who is also an overseas-registered foreign lawyer.

(2) Accordingly, nothing in this Part requires or enables an Australian legal practitioner (including an Australian legal practitioner who is also an overseas-registered foreign lawyer) to be registered as a foreign lawyer under this Part in order to practise foreign law in this jurisdiction.

Division 2—Practice of foreign law

2.8.4 Requirement for registration

(1) A person must not practise foreign law in this jurisdiction unless the person is—

(a) an Australian-registered foreign lawyer; or
(b) an Australian legal practitioner.

Penalty: 240 penalty units.

(2) However, a person does not contravene subsection (1) if the person is an overseas-registered foreign lawyer—

(a) who—

(i) practises foreign law in this jurisdiction for one or more periods that do not in aggregate exceed 90 days in any period of 12 months; or
(ii) is subject to a restriction imposed under the Migration Act 1958 of the Commonwealth that has the effect of limiting the period during which work may be done, or business transacted, in Australia by the person; and

(b) who—

(i) does not maintain an office for the purpose of practising foreign law in this jurisdiction; or
(ii) does not become a partner or director of a law practice.
2.8.5 Entitlement of Australian-registered foreign lawyer to practise in this jurisdiction

An Australian-registered foreign lawyer is, subject to this Act, entitled to practise foreign law in this jurisdiction.

2.8.6 Scope of practice

(1) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer may provide only the following legal services in this jurisdiction—

(a) doing work, or transacting business, concerning the law of a foreign country where the lawyer is registered by the foreign registration authority for the country;

(b) legal services (including appearances) in relation to arbitration proceedings of a kind prescribed under the regulations;

(c) legal services (including appearances) in relation to proceedings before bodies other than courts, being proceedings in which the body concerned is not required to apply the rules of evidence and in which knowledge of the foreign law of a country referred to in paragraph (a) is essential;

(d) legal services for conciliation, mediation and other forms of consensual dispute resolution of a kind prescribed under the regulations.

(2) Nothing in this Act authorises an Australian-registered foreign lawyer to appear in any court (except on the lawyer's own behalf) or to practise Australian law in this jurisdiction.

(3) Despite subsection (2), an Australian-registered foreign lawyer may advise on the effect of an Australian law if—
(a) the giving of advice on Australian law is necessarily incidental to the practice of foreign law; and

(b) the advice is expressly based on advice given on the Australian law by an Australian legal practitioner who is not an employee of the foreign lawyer.

2.8.7 Form of practice

(1) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer may (subject to any conditions attaching to the foreign lawyer's registration) practise foreign law—

(a) on the foreign lawyer's own account; or

(b) in partnership with one or more Australian-registered foreign lawyers or one or more Australian legal practitioners, or both, in circumstances where, if the Australian-registered foreign lawyer were an Australian legal practitioner, the partnership would be permitted under a law of this jurisdiction; or

(c) as a director or employee of an incorporated legal practice or a partner or employee of a multi-disciplinary partnership that is permitted by a law of this jurisdiction; or

(d) as an employee of an Australian legal practitioner or law firm in circumstances where, if the Australian-registered foreign lawyer were an Australian legal practitioner, the employment would be permitted under a law of this jurisdiction; or

(e) as an employee of an Australian-registered foreign lawyer.

(2) An affiliation referred to in subsection (1)(b) to (e) does not entitle the Australian-registered foreign lawyer to practise Australian law in this jurisdiction.
2.8.8 Application of Australian professional ethical and practice standards

(1) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer must not engage in any conduct in practising foreign law that would, if the conduct were engaged in by an Australian legal practitioner in practising Australian law in this jurisdiction, be capable of constituting professional misconduct or unsatisfactory professional conduct.

(2) Chapter 4 applies to a person who—

(a) is an Australian-registered foreign lawyer; or

(b) was an Australian-registered foreign lawyer when the relevant conduct allegedly occurred, but is no longer an Australian-registered foreign lawyer (in which case Chapter 4 applies as if the person were an Australian-registered foreign lawyer)— and so applies as if references in that Part to an Australian legal practitioner were references to a person of that kind.

(3) The regulations may make provision with respect to the application (with or without modification) of the provisions of Chapter 4 for the purposes of this section.

(4) Without limiting the matters that may be taken into account in determining whether a person should be disciplined for a contravention of subsection (1), the following matters may be taken into account—

(a) whether the conduct of the person was consistent with the standard of professional conduct of the legal profession in any foreign country where the person is registered;
(b) whether the person contravened the subsection wilfully or without reasonable excuse.

(5) Without limiting any other provision of this section or the orders that may be made under Chapter 4 as applied by this section, the following orders may be made under that Part as applied by this section—

(a) an order that a person's registration under this Act as a foreign lawyer be cancelled;

(b) an order that a person's registration under a corresponding law as a foreign lawyer be cancelled.

2.8.9 Designation

(1) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer may use only the following designations—

(a) the lawyer's own name;

(b) a title or business name the lawyer is authorised by law to use in a foreign country where the lawyer is registered by a foreign registration authority;

(c) subject to this section, the name of a foreign law practice with which the lawyer is affiliated or associated (whether as a partner, director, employee or otherwise);

(d) if the lawyer is a principal of any law practice in Australia whose principals include both one or more Australian-registered foreign lawyers and one or more Australian legal practitioners—a description of the practice that includes reference to both Australian legal practitioners and Australian-registered foreign lawyers (for example, "Solicitors and locally registered foreign lawyers" or "Australian solicitors and US attorneys").

(2) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer who is a principal of a foreign law practice may use the practice's name in or in connection with practising foreign law in this jurisdiction only if—

(a) the lawyer indicates, on the lawyer's letterhead or any other document used in this jurisdiction to identify the lawyer as an overseas-registered foreign lawyer, that the foreign law practice practises only foreign law in this jurisdiction; and

(b) the lawyer has provided the Board with acceptable evidence that the lawyer is a principal of the foreign law practice.

(3) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer who is a principal of a foreign law practice may use the name of the practice as referred to in this section whether or not other principals of the practice are Australian-registered foreign lawyers.

(4) This section does not authorise the use of a name or other designation that contravenes any requirements of the law of this jurisdiction concerning the use of business names or that is likely to lead to any confusion with the name of any established domestic law practice or foreign law practice in this jurisdiction.

2.8.10 Letterhead and other identifying documents

(1) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer must indicate, in each public document distributed by the lawyer in connection with the lawyer's practice of foreign law, the fact that the lawyer is an Australian-registered foreign lawyer and is restricted to the practice of foreign law.
(2) Subsection (1) is satisfied if the lawyer includes in the public document the words—

(a) "registered foreign lawyer" or "registered foreign practitioner"; and

(b) "entitled to practise foreign law only".

(3) An Australian-registered foreign lawyer may (but need not) include any or all of the following on any public document—

(a) an indication of all foreign countries in which the lawyer is registered to engage in legal practice;

This Part applies to a matter if the client first instructs the law practice in relation to the matter in this jurisdiction.

(2A) An offer referred to in subsection (2)(a) must clearly state—

(b) that the client may accept it in writing or by other conduct; and

(c) the type of conduct that will constitute acceptance.

(3) A notification has no effect for the purposes of subsection (2)(b) if it is given after the period of 28 days after the law practice discloses to the client (under a corresponding law) information about the client's right to make a notification of that kind, but nothing in this subsection prevents an agreement referred to in subsection (2)(a) from coming into effect at any time.

3.4.5 Displacement of Part

(1) This section applies if this Part applies to a matter by the operation of section 3.4.3 or 3.4.4.

(i) the client enters under the corresponding law into an agreement with the law practice that the corresponding provisions of the corresponding law apply to the matter; or

(ii) the client notifies, under the corresponding law of the other jurisdiction (and within the time allowed by the corresponding law), the law practice in writing that the client requires the corresponding provisions of the corresponding law to apply to the matter.

3.4.7 When does a matter have a substantial connection with this jurisdiction?

The regulations may prescribe the circumstances in which, or the rules to be used to determine whether, a matter has or does not have substantial connection with this jurisdiction for the purposes of this Part.
3.4.8 What happens when different laws apply to a matter?

(1) This section applies if this Part applies to a matter for a period and a corresponding law applies for another period.

(2) If this Part applied to a matter for a period and a corresponding law applies to the matter afterwards, this Part continues to apply in respect of legal costs (if any) incurred while this Part applied to the matter.

(3) If a corresponding law applied to a matter for a period and this Part applies to the matter afterwards, this Part does not apply in respect of legal costs (if any) incurred while the corresponding law applied to the matter, so long as the corresponding law continues to apply in respect of those costs.

(4) However—

(a) the client may enter into a written agreement with the law practice that the cost review provisions of this Part are to apply in respect of all legal costs incurred in relation to the matter, and Division 7 accordingly applies in respect of those legal costs; or

(b) if the client enters into a written agreement with the law practice that the cost review provisions of a corresponding law are to apply in respect of all legal costs incurred in relation to the matter, Division 7 accordingly does not apply in respect of those legal costs.

(4A) A written agreement referred to in subsection (4) need not be signed by the client but in that case the client's acceptance must be communicated to the law practice by fax, email or some other written form.

(4B) If a corresponding law applied to a matter for a period and this Part applies to the matter afterwards, this Part does not require disclosure of any matters to the extent that they have already been disclosed under a corresponding law.

(5) This section has effect despite any other provisions of this Part.

Division 3—Costs disclosure

3.4.9 Disclosure of costs to clients

(1) A law practice must disclose to a client in accordance with this Division—

(a) the basis on which legal costs will be calculated, including whether a practitioner remuneration order or scale of costs applies to any of the legal costs; and

(b) the client's right to—

(i) negotiate a costs agreement with the law practice; and

(ia) receive a bill from the law practice; and

(ii) request an itemised bill within 30 days after receipt of a lump sum bill; and

(iii) be notified under section 3.4.16 of any substantial change to the matters disclosed under this section; and

(c) an estimate of the total legal costs or, if that is not reasonably practicable—

(i) a range of estimates of the total legal costs; and
(ii) an explanation of the major variables that will affect the calculation of those costs; and

(e) details of the intervals (if any) at which the client will be billed; and

(f) the rate of interest (if any) that the law practice charges on overdue legal costs, whether that rate is a specific rate of interest or is a benchmark rate of interest (as referred to in subsection (1A)); and

(g) if the matter is a litigious matter, an estimate of—

   (i) the range of costs that may be recovered if the client is successful in the litigation; and

   (ii) the range of costs the client may be ordered to pay if the client is unsuccessful; and

(h) the client's right to progress reports in accordance with section 3.4.18; and

(i) details of the person whom the client may contact to discuss the legal costs; and

(j) the following avenues that are open to the client in the event of a dispute in relation to legal costs—

   (i) costs review under Division 7;

   (ii) the setting aside of a costs agreement under section 3.4.32;

   (iii) making a complaint under Chapter 4; and
(k) any time limits that apply to the taking of any action referred to in paragraph (j); and

(l) that the law of this jurisdiction applies to legal costs in relation to the matter; and

(m) information about the client's right—

(i) to accept under a corresponding law a written offer to enter into an agreement with the law practice that the corresponding provisions of the corresponding law apply to the matter; or

(ii) to notify under a corresponding law (and within the time allowed by the corresponding law) the law practice in writing that the client requires the corresponding provisions of the corresponding law to apply to the matter.

Note
The client's right to enter into an agreement or give a notification as mentioned in paragraph (m) will be under provisions of the law of the other jurisdiction that correspond to section 3.4.4.

(1A) For the purposes of subsection (1)(f), a benchmark rate of interest is a rate of interest for the time being equal to or calculated by reference to a rate of interest that is specified or determined from time to time by an ADI or another body or organisation, or by or under other legislation, and that is publicly available.

(1B) The regulations may make provision for or with respect to the use of benchmark rates of interest and, in particular, for or with respect to permitting, regulating or preventing the use of particular benchmark rates or particular kinds of benchmark rates.
(2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(g), the disclosure must include—

(a) a statement that an order by a court for the payment of costs in favour of the client will not necessarily cover the whole of the client's legal costs; and

(b) if applicable, a statement that disbursements may be payable by the client even if the client enters into a conditional costs agreement.

(3) A law practice is taken to have complied with the requirement to disclose the details referred to in subsection (1)(b)(i), (ia) and (ii), (h), (j), (k) and (m) if it provides a written statement in or to the effect of a form prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subsection at the same time as the other details are disclosed as required by this section.

(4) A regulation prescribing a form for the purposes of subsection (3) may provide for the form to refer to fact sheets or other documents (whether as current at the time the regulation commences or any earlier time or as in force for the time being) that contain details of the kind referred to in that subsection.

(5) The regulation may—

(a) require the Commissioner to produce and maintain fact sheets or other documents that are referred to in the form and to make them available on the Internet; and

(b) require the fact sheets or other documents to be developed in consultation with the professional associations.
3.4.10 Disclosure if another law practice is to be retained

(1) If a law practice intends to retain another law practice on behalf of a client, the first law practice must disclose to the client the details specified in section 3.4.9(1)(a), (c) and (e) in relation to the other law practice, in addition to any information required to be disclosed to the client under section 3.4.9.

(2) A law practice retained or to be retained on behalf of a client by another law practice is not required to make disclosure to the client under section 3.4.9, but must disclose to the other law practice the information necessary for the other law practice to comply with subsection (1).

(3) This section does not apply if the first law practice ceases to act for the client in the matter when the other law practice is retained.

Note
An example of the operation of this section is where a barrister is retained by a firm of solicitors on behalf of a client of the firm. The barrister must disclose to the firm details of the barrister's legal costs and billing arrangements, and the firm must disclose those details to the client. The barrister is not required to make a disclosure directly to the client.

3.4.11 How and when must disclosure be made to a client?

(1) Disclosure under section 3.4.9 must be made in writing before, or as soon as practicable after, the law practice is retained in the matter.

(2) Disclosure under section 3.4.10(1) must be made in writing before, or as soon as practicable after, the other law practice is retained.

(3) Disclosure made to a person before the law practice is retained in a matter is taken to be disclosure to the person as a client for the purposes of sections 3.4.9 and 3.4.10.
3.4.12 Exceptions to requirement for disclosure

(1) Disclosure under section 3.4.9 or 3.4.10(1) is not required to be made in any of the following circumstances—

(a) if the total legal costs in the matter, excluding disbursements, are not likely to exceed $750 (exclusive of GST) or the prescribed amount (whichever is higher);

(b) if—

(i) the client has received one or more disclosures under section 3.4.9 or 3.4.10(1) from the law practice in the previous 12 months; and

(ii) the client has agreed in writing to waive the right to disclosure; and

(iii) a principal of the law practice decides on reasonable grounds that, having regard to the nature of the previous disclosures and the relevant circumstances, the further disclosure is not warranted;

(c) if the client is—

(i) a law practice or an Australian legal practitioner; or

(ii) a public company, a subsidiary of a public company, a large proprietary company, a foreign company, a subsidiary of a foreign company or a registered Australian body (each within the meaning of the Corporations Act); or

(iii) a financial services licensee (within the meaning of that Act); or
(iv) a liquidator, administrator or receiver
(as respectively referred to in that Act); or

(v) a partnership that carries on the business of providing professional services if the partnership consists of more than 20 members or if the partnership would be a large proprietary company (within the meaning of that Act) if it were a company; or (vi) a proprietary company (within the meaning of that Act) formed for the purpose of carrying out a joint venture, if any shareholder of the company is a person to whom disclosure of costs is not required; or

(vii) an unincorporated group of participants in a joint venture, if any member of the group is a person to whom disclosure of costs is not required and if any other members of the group who are not such persons have indicated that they waive their right to disclosure; or (viii) a Minister of the Crown in right of a jurisdiction or the Commonwealth acting in his or her capacity as such, or a government department or public authority of a jurisdiction or the Commonwealth;

(d) if the legal costs or the basis on which they will be calculated have or has been agreed as a result of a tender process;
(e) if the client will not be required to pay the legal costs or they will not otherwise be recovered by the law practice;

Note

For instance, disclosure would not be required where the law practice acts in the matter on a pro bono basis.

(f) in any circumstances prescribed by the regulations.

(2) Despite subsection (1)(a), if a law practice becomes aware that the total legal costs are likely to exceed $750 (exclusive of GST) or the prescribed amount (whichever is higher), the law practice must disclose the matters in section 3.4.9 or 3.4.10 (as the case requires) to the client as soon as practicable.

(3) A law practice must ensure that a written record of a principal's decision that further disclosure is not warranted as mentioned in subsection (1)(b) is made and kept with the files relating to the matter concerned.

(4) The reaching of a decision referred to in subsection (3) otherwise than on reasonable grounds is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct on the part of the principal.

(5) Nothing in this section affects or takes away from any client's right—

(a) to progress reports in accordance with section 3.4.18;

(b) to obtain reasonable information from the law practice in relation to any of the matters specified in section 3.4.9;

(c) to negotiate a costs agreement with a law practice and to obtain a bill from the law practice.
3.4.13 Additional disclosure—settlement of litigious matters

(1) If a law practice negotiates the settlement of a litigious matter on behalf of a client, the law practice must disclose to the client, before the settlement is executed—

(a) a reasonable estimate of the amount of legal costs payable by the client if the matter is settled (including any legal costs of another party that the client is to pay); and

(b) a reasonable estimate of any contributions towards those costs likely to be received from another party.

(2) A law practice retained on behalf of a client by another law practice is not required to make a disclosure to the client under subsection (1) if the other law practice makes the disclosure to the client before the settlement is executed.

3.4.14 Additional disclosure—uplift fees

(1) If a costs agreement involves an uplift fee, the law practice must disclose to the client in writing, before entering the agreement, the law practice's usual fees, the uplift fee (or the basis of calculation of the uplift fee) and reasons why the uplift fee is warranted.

(2) A law practice is not required to make a disclosure under subsection (1) to a sophisticated client.
3.4.15 Form of disclosure

(1) Written disclosures to a client under this Division—
   (a) must be expressed in clear plain language; and
   (b) may be in a language other than English if the client is more familiar with that language.

(2) If the law practice is aware that the client is unable to read, the law practice must arrange for the information required to be given to a client under this Division to be conveyed orally to the client in addition to providing the written disclosure.

3.4.16 Ongoing obligation to disclose

A law practice must, in writing, disclose to a client any substantial change to anything included in a disclosure already made under this Division as soon as is reasonably practicable after the law practice becomes aware of that change.

3.4.17 Effect of failure to disclose

(1) If a law practice does not disclose to a client or an associated third party payer anything required by this Division to be disclosed, the client or associated third party payer (as the case may be) need not pay the legal costs unless they have been reviewed under Division 7.

   Note
   Under section 3.4.45, the costs of a review in these circumstances are generally payable by the law practice.

(2) A law practice that does not disclose to a client or an associated third party payer anything required by this Division to be disclosed may not maintain proceedings against the client or associated third party payer (as the case may be) for the recovery of legal costs unless the costs have been reviewed under Division 7.

(3) If a law practice does not disclose to a client or an associated third party payer anything required by this Division to be disclosed and the client or associated third party payer has entered into a costs agreement with the law practice, the client or associated third party payer may also apply under section 3.4.32 for the costs agreement to be set aside.

(4) If a law practice does not disclose to a client or an associated third party payer anything required by this Division to be disclosed, then, on a review of the relevant legal costs, the amount of the costs may be reduced by an amount considered by the Taxing Master to be proportionate to the seriousness of the failure to disclose.

(5) If a law practice retains another law practice on behalf of a client and the first law practice fails to disclose something to the client solely because the retained law practice failed to disclose relevant information to the first law practice as required by section 3.4.10(2), then subsections (1) to (4)—

(a) do not apply to the legal costs owing to the first law practice on account of legal services provided by it, to the extent that the non-disclosure by the first law practice was caused by the failure of the retained law practice to disclose the relevant information; and

(b) do apply to the legal costs owing to the retained law practice.
(5A) In a matter involving both a client and an associated third party payer where disclosure has been made to one of them but not the other—

(a) subsection (1) does not affect the liability of the one to whom disclosure was made to pay the legal costs; and

(b) subsection (2) does not prevent proceedings being maintained against the one to whom the disclosure was made for the recovery of those legal costs.

(6) Failure by a law practice to comply with this Division is capable of constituting unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct on the part of any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer involved in the failure.

(7) Subsections (1) and (2) do not apply if the legal costs are or have been the subject of a civil complaint under Chapter 4.

3.4.18 Progress reports

(1) A law practice must give a client, on reasonable request—

(a) a written report of the progress of the matter in which the law practice is retained; and

(b) a written report of the legal costs incurred by the client to date, or since the last bill (if any), in the matter.

(2) A law practice may charge a client a reasonable amount for a report under subsection (1)(a) but must not charge a client for a report under subsection (1)(b).
(3) A law practice retained on behalf of a client by another law practice is not required to give a report to the client under subsection (1), but must disclose to the other law practice any information necessary for the other law practice to comply with that subsection.

(4) Subsection (3) does not apply if the other law practice ceases to act for the client in the matter when the law practice is retained.

3.4.18A Disclosure to associated third party payers

(1) If a law practice is required to make a disclosure to a client of the practice under this Division, the practice must, in accordance with subsections (2) and (3), also make the same disclosure to any associated third party payer for the client, but only to the extent that the details or matters disclosed are relevant to the associated third party payer and relate to costs that are payable by the associated third party payer in respect of legal services provided to the client.

(2) A disclosure under subsection (1) must be made in writing—

(a) at the time the disclosure to the client is required under this Division; or

(b) if the law practice only afterwards becomes aware of the legal obligation of the associated third party payer to pay legal costs of the client—as soon as practicable after the practice became aware of the obligation.

(3) Section 3.4.15 applies to a disclosure to an associated third party payer under subsection (1) in the same way as it applies to a client.

(4) An associated third party payer for a client of a law practice has the same right as the client to obtain reports under section 3.4.18(1)(b) of legal costs incurred by the client, but only to the extent that the costs are payable by the associated third party payer in respect of legal services provided to the client, and the law practice must comply with that section accordingly.

Division 4—Legal costs generally

3.4.19 On what basis are legal costs recoverable?

Subject to Division 2, legal costs are recoverable—

(a) under a costs agreement made in accordance with Division 5 or the corresponding provisions of a corresponding law; or

(b) if paragraph (a) does not apply, in accordance with an applicable practitioner remuneration order or scale of costs; or

(c) if neither paragraph (a) nor (b) applies, according to the fair and reasonable value of the legal services provided.

Note

See section 3.4.44(2) for the criteria that are to be applied on a costs review to determine whether legal costs are fair and reasonable.

3.4.20 Security for legal costs

A law practice may take reasonable security from a client for legal costs (including security for the payment of interest on unpaid legal costs) and may refuse or cease to act for a client who does not provide reasonable security.

3.4.21 Interest on unpaid legal costs

(1) A law practice may charge interest on unpaid legal costs if the costs are unpaid 30 days or more after the practice has given a bill for the costs in accordance with this Part.
(2) A law practice may also charge interest on unpaid legal costs in accordance with a costs agreement.

(3) A law practice must not charge interest under subsection (1) or (2) on unpaid legal costs unless the bill for those costs contains a statement that interest is payable if the costs are not paid and of the rate of interest.

(4) A law practice may not charge interest under this section or under a costs agreement at a rate that exceeds the rate prescribed by the regulations.

3.4.22 Practitioner remuneration orders

(1) The Legal Costs Committee, after consultation with the Board, may make orders with respect to the costs that may be charged by law practices for providing legal services other than in relation to litigious matters.

(2) A practitioner remuneration order may provide that law practices may charge—

(a) according to a scale of rates of commission or percentages; or

(b) a specified amount; or

(c) a maximum amount; or

(d) in any other way or combination of ways.

(3) A practitioner remuneration order—

(a) may differ according to different classes of legal services;

(b) may confer a discretionary authority or impose a duty on a specified person or class of persons.
3.4.23 Publication and availability of practitioner remuneration order

(1) The Legal Costs Committee must give a copy of each practitioner remuneration order to the Attorney-General, the Board and each professional association within 7 days after it is made.

(2) Each professional association must publish the contents of a practitioner remuneration order in its next available official publication after it receives a copy of the order.

(3) A person may inspect without charge a copy of a practitioner remuneration order during ordinary office hours at the office of the Board, or purchase a copy from the Board.

3.4.24 Disallowance of practitioner remuneration order

(1) The Attorney-General must cause a copy of each practitioner remuneration order to be laid before each House of the Parliament on or before the 6th sitting day of that House after the day on which the order is received by him or her.

(2) A practitioner remuneration order is subject to disallowance by the Parliament and, for that purpose, sections 23, 24 and 25 of the Subordinate Legislation Act 1994 apply as if a practitioner remuneration order were a statutory rule within the meaning of that Act.

3.4.25 Legal Costs Committee

(1) The Legal Costs Committee consists of—

   (a) the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court or another Judge of the Supreme Court nominated by him or her;

   (b) 2 members nominated by the Attorney-General, at least one of whom is not a legal practitioner;
(c) 2 members nominated by the Board;
(d) one member nominated by each professional association.

(2) The Chief Justice or his or her nominee is to be chairperson of the committee.

(3) A quorum of the committee is a majority of the members of the committee for the time being.

(4) A question arising at a meeting is determined by a majority of votes and the person presiding has a deliberative vote and, in the case of an equality of votes, a second or casting vote.

(5) Subject to this Act, the Committee may regulate its own procedure.

Division 5—Costs agreements

3.4.26 Making costs agreements

(1) A costs agreement may be made—
   (a) between a client and a law practice retained by the client; or
   (b) between a client and a law practice retained on behalf of the client by another law practice; or
   (c) between a law practice and another law practice that retained that law practice on behalf of a client; or
   (d) between a law practice and an associated third party payer.

(2) A costs agreement must be written or evidenced in writing.
(3) A costs agreement may consist of a written offer in accordance with subsection (4) that is accepted in writing or by other conduct.

Note
Acceptance by other conduct is not permitted for conditional costs agreements—see section 3.4.27(3)(c).

(4) The offer must clearly state—

(a) that it is an offer to enter a costs agreement; and

(b) that the client may accept it in writing or by other conduct; and

(c) the type of conduct that will constitute acceptance.

(5) Except as provided by section 3.4.48A, a costs agreement cannot provide that the legal costs to which it relates are not subject to costs review under Division 7.

Note
If it attempts to do so, the costs agreement will be void—see section 3.4.31(1).

(6) A reference in section 3.4.32 and in any prescribed provisions of this Part to a client is, in relation to a costs agreement that is entered into between a law practice and an associated third party payer as referred to in subsection (1)(d) and to which a client of the law practice is not a party, a reference to the associated third party payer.

3.4.27 Conditional costs agreements

(1) A costs agreement may provide that the payment of some or all of the legal costs is conditional on the successful outcome of the matter to which those costs relate.
(2) A conditional costs agreement may relate to any matter, except a matter that involves criminal proceedings or proceedings under the Family Law Act 1975 of the Commonwealth.

(3) A conditional costs agreement—

(a) must set out the circumstances that constitute the successful outcome of the matter to which it relates; and

(b) may provide for disbursements to be paid irrespective of the outcome of the matter; and

(c) must be—

(i) in writing; and

(ii) in clear plain language; and

(iii) signed by the client; and

(d) must contain a statement that the client has been informed of the client's right to seek independent legal advice before entering into the agreement; and

(e) must contain a cooling-off period of not less than 5 clear business days during which the client, by written notice, may terminate the agreement.

(4) Subsection (3)(c)(iii), (d) and (e) does not apply to a conditional costs agreement made under section 3.4.26(1)(c).

(4A) Subsection (3)(c)(iii), (d) and (e) does not apply to a conditional costs agreement made with a sophisticated client.

(5) If a client terminates an agreement within the period referred to in subsection (3)(e), the law practice—
Part 3.4—Costs Disclosure and Review

(a) may recover only those legal costs in respect of legal services performed for the client before that termination that were performed on the instructions of the client and with the client's knowledge that the legal services would be performed during that period; and

(b) without affecting the generality of paragraph (a), may not recover the uplift fee (if any).

3.4.28 Conditional costs agreements involving uplift fees

(1) A conditional costs agreement may provide for the payment of an uplift fee.

(2) The basis of calculation of the uplift fee must be separately identified in the agreement.

(3) The agreement must contain an estimate of the uplift fee or, if that is not reasonably practicable—

   (a) a range of estimates of the uplift fee; and

   (b) an explanation of the major variables that will affect the calculation of the uplift fee.

(4) If a conditional costs agreement relates to a litigious matter—

   (a) the agreement must not provide for the payment of an uplift fee unless the law practice has a reasonable belief that a successful outcome of the matter is reasonably likely; and

   (b) the uplift fee must not exceed 25% of the legal costs (excluding disbursements) otherwise payable.

(5) A law practice must not enter into a costs agreement in contravention of this section.

Penalty: 60 penalty units.
3.4.29 Contingency fees are prohibited

(1) A law practice must not enter into a costs agreement under which the amount payable to the law practice, or any part of that amount, is calculated by reference to—

   * * * * * * *

   (b) the amount of any award or settlement or the value of any property that may be recovered in any proceedings to which the agreement relates.

   Penalty: 120 penalty units.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to the extent that the costs agreement adopts an applicable scale of costs.

3.4.30 Effect of costs agreement

(1) Subject to this Division and Division 7, a costs agreement may be enforced in the same way as any other contract.

(2) Nothing in this Part prevents a person making a complaint under Chapter 4 in relation to legal costs that are the subject of a costs agreement.

3.4.31 Certain costs agreements are void

(1) A costs agreement that contravenes, or is entered into in contravention of, any provision of this Division is void.

(2) Subject to this section and Division 7, legal costs under a void costs agreement are recoverable as set out in section 3.4.19(b) or (c).
(3) However, a law practice is not entitled to recover any amount in excess of the amount that the law practice would have been entitled to recover if the costs agreement had not been void and must repay any excess amounts received.

(4) A law practice that has entered into a costs agreement in contravention of section 3.4.28 is not entitled to recover the whole or any part of the uplift fee and must repay the amount received in respect of the uplift fee to the person from whom it was received.

(5) A law practice that has entered into a costs agreement in contravention of section 3.4.29 is not entitled to recover any amount in respect of the provision of legal services in the matter to which the costs agreement related and must repay any amount received in respect of those services to the person from whom it was received.

(6) If a law practice does not repay an amount required by subsection (3), (4) or (5) to be repaid, the person entitled to be repaid may recover the amount from the law practice as a debt in a court of competent jurisdiction.

3.4.32 Setting aside costs agreements

(1) On application by a client, the Tribunal may order that a costs agreement be set aside if satisfied that the agreement is not fair or reasonable.

(2) In determining whether or not a costs agreement is fair or reasonable, the Tribunal may have regard to any or all of the following matters—

(a) whether the client was induced to enter into the agreement by the fraud or misrepresentation of the law practice or of any representative of the law practice;
(b) whether any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer acting on behalf of the law practice has been found guilty of unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct in relation to the provision of legal services to which the agreement relates;

(c) whether the law practice failed to make any of the disclosures required under Division 3;

(d) the circumstances and conduct of the parties before and when the agreement was made;

(e) the circumstances and the conduct of the parties in the matters after the agreement was made;

(f) whether and how the agreement addresses the effect on costs of matters and changed circumstances that might foreseeably arise and affect the extent and nature of legal services provided under the agreement;

(g) whether and how billing under the agreement addresses changed circumstances affecting the extent and nature of legal services provided under the agreement.

(3) The Tribunal may adjourn the hearing of an application under this section pending the completion of any investigation or determination of any charge in relation to the conduct of any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer.

(4) If the Tribunal orders that a costs agreement be set aside, it may make an order in relation to the payment of legal costs the subject of the agreement.
(5) In making an order under subsection (4)—

(a) the Tribunal must apply the applicable scale of costs or practitioner remuneration order (if any); or

(b) if there is no applicable scale of costs or practitioner remuneration order—the Tribunal must determine the fair and reasonable legal costs in relation to the work to which the agreement related, taking into account—

(i) the seriousness of the conduct of the law practice or any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer acting on its behalf; and

(ii) whether or not it was reasonable to carry out the work; and

(iii) whether or not the work was carried out in a reasonable manner.

(6) In making an order under subsection (4), the Tribunal may not order the payment of an amount in excess of the amount that the law practice would have been entitled to recover if the costs agreement had not been set aside.

(7) For the purposes of subsection (5)(b), the Tribunal may have regard to any or all of the following matters—

(a) whether the law practice and any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer acting on its behalf complied with this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules;

(b) any disclosures made by the law practice under Division 3, or the failure to make any disclosures required under that Division;
(c) any relevant advertisement as to—

   (i) the law practice's costs; or

   (ii) the skills of the law practice or of any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer acting on its behalf;

(d) the skill, labour and responsibility displayed on the part of the Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer responsible for the matter;

(e) the retainer and whether the work done was within the scope of the retainer;

(f) the complexity, novelty or difficulty of the matter;

(g) the quality of the work done;

(h) the place where, and circumstances in which, the work was done;

(i) the time within which the work was required to be done;

(j) any other relevant matter.

(8) The Tribunal may determine whether or not a costs agreement exists.

(9) The Tribunal may order the payment of the costs of and incidental to a hearing under this section.

(10) In this section—

   client means a person to whom or for whom legal services are or have been provided.

Note

See also section 3.4.26(6) which extends the application of this section to associated third party payers.
Division 6—Billing

3.4.33 Legal costs cannot be recovered unless bill has been served

(1) A law practice must not commence legal proceedings to recover legal costs from a person until at least 65 days after the law practice has given a bill to the person in accordance with sections 3.4.34 and 3.4.35.

Note
Section 4.3.2 prohibits a law practice from commencing proceedings if it has received notice of a civil complaint regarding the legal costs.

(2) A court of competent jurisdiction may make an order authorising a law practice to commence legal proceedings against a person sooner if satisfied that—

(a) the law practice has given a bill to the person in accordance with sections 3.4.34 and 3.4.35; and

(b) the person is about to leave this jurisdiction.

(3) A court or tribunal before which any proceedings are brought in contravention of subsection (1) must stay those proceedings on the application of a party, or on its own initiative.

(4) This section applies whether or not the legal costs are the subject of a costs agreement.

3.4.34 Bills

(1) A bill may be in the form of a lump sum bill or an itemised bill.

(2) A bill must be signed on behalf of a law practice—

(a) in any case, by an Australian legal practitioner or an employee of the law practice; or
(b) in the case of a barrister, by an approved clerk or an employee of an approved clerk authorised by the approved clerk.

(2A) It is sufficient compliance with subsection (2) if—

(a) in any case, a letter signed on behalf of a law practice by an Australian legal practitioner or an employee of the law practice is attached to, or enclosed with, the bill;

(b) in the case of a barrister, a letter signed on behalf of the barrister by an approved clerk or an employee of an approved clerk authorised by the approved clerk is attached to, or enclosed with, the bill.

(3) In the case of a law practice that is an incorporated legal practice, the bill may be sealed by the practice in accordance with its constitution, instead of being signed under subsection (2).

(4) A bill is to be given to a person—

(a) by delivering it personally to the person or to an agent of the person; or

(b) by sending it by post to the person or agent at—

(i) the usual or last known business or residential address of the person or agent; or

(ii) an address nominated for the purpose by the person or agent; or

(c) by leaving it for the person or agent at—

(i) the usual or last known business or residential address of the person or agent; or
(ii) an address nominated for the purpose by the person or agent—

with a person on the premises who is apparently at least 16 years old and apparently employed or residing there.

(5) A reference in subsection (4) to any method of giving a bill to a person includes a reference to arranging for the bill to be given to that person by that method (for example, by delivery by courier).

(5A) Despite anything in subsections (2) to (5), a bill may be given to a client electronically if the client is a sophisticated client and requested the bill to be given electronically.

(6) In this section—

agent of a person means an agent, law practice or Australian legal practitioner who has authority to accept service of legal process on behalf of the person.

3.4.35 Notification of client's rights

(1) A bill must include or be accompanied by a written statement setting out—

(a) the following avenues that are open to the client in the event of a dispute in relation to legal costs—

(i) costs review under Division 7;

(ii) the setting aside of a costs agreement under section 3.4.32;

(iii) making a complaint under Chapter 4; and

(b) any time limits that apply to the taking of any action referred to in paragraph (a).

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply in relation to a sophisticated client.
(3) A law practice is taken to have complied with the requirement to provide the written statement referred to in subsection (1) if it provides a written statement in or to the effect of a form prescribed by the regulations for the purposes of this subsection.

(4) A regulation prescribing a form for the purposes of subsection (3) may provide for the form to refer to fact sheets or other documents (whether as current at the time the regulation commences or any earlier time or as in force for the time being) that contain details of the kind referred to in subsection (1).

(5) The regulation may—

(a) require the Commissioner to produce and maintain fact sheets or other documents that are referred to in the form and to make them available on the Internet; and

(b) require the fact sheets or other documents to be developed in consultation with the professional associations.

3.4.36 Request for itemised bill

(1) If a bill is given by a law practice in the form of a lump sum bill, any person who is entitled to apply for a review of the legal costs to which the bill relates may, within 30 days after the day the bill is given, request the law practice to give the person an itemised bill.

(2) The law practice must comply with the request within 21 days after the date on which the request was made.

(3) If the person making the request is liable to pay only a part of the legal costs to which the bill relates, the request for an itemised bill may only be made in relation to those costs that the person is liable to pay.
(4) If a person makes a request for an itemised bill in accordance with this section, the law practice must not commence legal proceedings to recover the legal costs from the person until at least 35 days after complying with the request.

Note
Section 4.3.2 prohibits a law practice from commencing proceedings if it has received notice of a civil complaint regarding the legal costs.

(5) A law practice is not entitled to charge a person other than a non-associated third party payer for the preparation of an itemised bill requested under this section.

(6) Section 3.4.34(2), (3) and (4) apply to the giving of an itemised bill under this section.

3.4.37 Interim bills
(1) A law practice may give a person an interim bill covering part only of the legal services the law practice was retained to provide.

(2) Legal costs that are the subject of an interim bill may be reviewed under Division 7, either at the time of the interim bill or at the time of the final bill, whether or not the interim bill has previously been reviewed or paid.

Division 7—Costs review by Taxing Master

3.4.38 Application by clients or third party payers for costs review
(1) A client may apply to the Taxing Master for a review of the whole or any part of legal costs.

(2) A third party payer may apply to the Taxing Master for a review of the whole or any part of legal costs payable by the third party payer.
(3) An application for a costs review may be made even if the legal costs have been wholly or partly paid.

(4) If any legal costs have been paid without a bill, the client or third party payer may nevertheless apply for a costs review.

(5) An application by a client or third party payer for a costs review under this section must be made within 12 months after—

(a) the bill was given or the request for payment was made to the client or third party payer; or

(b) the costs were paid if neither a bill was given nor a request was made.

(6) However, an application that is made out of time, otherwise than by—

(a) a sophisticated client; or

(b) a third party payer who would be a sophisticated client if the third party payer were a client of the law practice concerned—may be dealt with by the Taxing Master if the Supreme Court, on application by the Taxing Master or the client or third party payer who made the application for review, determines, after having regard to the delay and the reasons for the delay, that it is just and fair for the application for review to be dealt with after the 12 month period.

(7) If the third party payer is a non-associated third party payer, the law practice must provide the third party payer, on the written request of the third party payer, with sufficient information to allow the third party payer to consider making, and if thought fit to make, an application for a costs review under this section.
(8) If there is an associated third party payer for a client of a law practice—

(a) nothing in this section prevents—

(i) the client from making one or more applications for review under this section in relation to costs for which the client is solely liable; and

(ii) the associated third party payer from making one or more applications for review under this section in relation to costs for which the associated third party payer is solely liable—and those applications may be made by them at the same time or at different times and may be dealt with jointly or separately; and

(b) the client or the associated third party payer—

(i) may participate in the costs review process where the other of them makes an application for review under this section in relation to costs for which they are both liable; and

(ii) is taken to be a party to the review and is bound by the review; and

(c) the law practice—

(i) must participate in the costs review process where an application is made under this section by the associated third party payer in the same way as the practice must participate in the process where an application is made under this section by a client; and

(ii) is taken to be a party to the review and is bound by the review.
Part 3.4—Costs Disclosure and Review

Legal Profession Act 2004
No. 99 of 2004
Part 3.4—Costs Disclosure and Review

(9) If there is a non-associated third party payer for a client of a law practice—

(a) nothing in this section prevents—

(i) the client from making one or more applications for review under this section in relation to costs for which the client is liable; and

(ii) the non-associated third party payer from making one or more applications for review under this section in relation to costs for which the non-associated third party payer is liable—and those applications may be made by them at the same time or at different times but must be dealt with separately; and

(b) the client—

(i) may participate in the costs review process where the non-associated third party payer makes an application under this section in relation to costs for which the non-associated third party payer is liable; and

(ii) is taken to be a party to the review and is bound by the review; and

(c) the law practice—

(i) must participate in the costs review process; and

(ii) is taken to be a party to the review; and

(d) despite any other provision of this Division, the review of the costs payable by the non-associated third party payer does not affect the amount of legal costs payable by the client to the law practice.
(10) In this section—

\textit{client} includes the following—

(a) an executor or administrator of a client;

(b) a trustee of the estate of a client;

\textit{third party payer} includes—

(a) an executor or administrator of a third party payer;

(b) a trustee of the estate of a third party payer.

\textbf{3.4.39 Application for costs review by law practice retaining another law practice}

(1) A law practice that retains another law practice to act on behalf of a client may apply to the Taxing Master for a review of the whole or any part of the legal costs.

(2) If any legal costs have been paid without a bill, the law practice may nevertheless apply for a costs review.

(2A) An application for a costs review may be made even if the legal costs have been wholly or partly paid.

(3) An application under this section must be made within 60 days after—

(a) the bill was given or the request for payment was made; or

(b) the costs were paid if neither a bill was given nor a request was made.

(4) An application cannot be made under this section if there is a costs agreement between the client and the other law practice.
3.4.40 Application for costs review by law practice giving bill

(1) A law practice that has given a bill in accordance with Division 6 may apply to the Taxing Master for a review of the whole or any part of the legal costs to which the bill relates.

(2) If any legal costs have been paid without a bill, the law practice may nevertheless apply for a costs review.

(2A) An application for a costs review may be made even if the legal costs have been wholly or partly paid.

(3) An application may not be made under this section unless at least 30 days have passed since—

(a) the bill was given or the request for payment was made; or

(b) the costs were paid if neither a bill was given nor a request was made; or

(c) an application has been made under this Division by another person in respect of the legal costs.

3.4.41 Consequences of application

(1) If an application for a costs review is made in accordance with this Division—

(a) the costs review must take place without any money being paid into court on account of the legal costs the subject of the application; and

(b) the law practice must not commence any proceedings to recover the legal costs until the costs review has been completed.
Part 3.4—Costs Disclosure and Review

Legal Profession Act 2004
No. 99 of 2004
Part 3.4—Costs Disclosure and Review

(2) If—

(a) a law practice has commenced proceedings to recover legal costs; and

(b) an application for a costs review in relation to those legal costs is made under section 3.4.38 out of time; and the court or tribunal in which the proceedings have been brought must stay the proceedings on the application of a party, or on its own initiative, pending the completion of the review.

(c) the Taxing Master determines to deal with the application—

3.4.42 Persons to be notified of application

(1) An applicant for costs review must cause a copy of the application to be given to any law practice or client concerned or any other person whom the Taxing Master thinks it appropriate to notify.

(2) A person who is notified by the applicant under subsection (1)—

(a) is entitled to participate in the costs review process; and

(b) is taken to be a party to the review; and

(c) if the Taxing Master so determines, is bound by the review.

3.4.43 Procedure on review

(1) If, after proper notice that a costs review will take place, a party to the review does not attend, the Taxing Master may proceed with the review in the absence of that party.

(2) If, before giving an itemised bill the law practice had previously given a lump sum bill, on a costs review the law practice is not bound by the amount and matters stated in the lump sum bill.

3.4.44 Criteria for review

(1) In conducting a review of legal costs, the Taxing Master must consider—

(a) whether or not it was reasonable to carry out the work to which the legal costs relate; and

(b) whether or not the work was carried out in a reasonable manner; and

(c) the fairness and reasonableness of the amount of legal costs in relation to the work, except to the extent that section 3.4.44A or 3.4.44B applies to any disputed costs.

(2) In considering what is a fair and reasonable amount of legal costs, the Taxing Master may have regard to any or all of the following matters—

(a) whether the law practice and any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer acting on its behalf complied with this Act, the regulations or the legal profession rules;

(b) any disclosures made by the law practice under Division 3;

(1) The Taxing Master must review the amount of any disputed costs that are subject to a costs agreement by reference to the provisions of the costs agreement if—

(a) a relevant provision of the costs agreement specifies the amount, or a rate or other means for calculating the amount, of the costs; and

(e) the skill, labour and responsibility displayed on the part of the Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer responsible for the matter;

(f) the retainer and whether the work done was within the scope of the retainer;

(g) the complexity, novelty or difficulty of the matter;

(h) the quality of the work done;

(i) the place where, and circumstances in which, the legal services were provided;

(j) the time within which the work was required to be done;

(k) any other relevant matter.

(3) In conducting a review of legal costs payable by a non-associated third party payer, the Taxing Master must also consider whether it is fair and reasonable in the circumstances for the non-associated third party payer to be charged the amount claimed.
(b) the agreement has not been set aside under section 3.4.32—

unless the Taxing Master is satisfied——

(c) that the agreement does not comply in a material respect with any applicable disclosure requirements of Division 3; or

(d) that Division 5 precludes the law practice concerned from recovering the amount of the costs; or

(e) that the parties otherwise agree.

(2) The Taxing Master is not required to initiate an examination of the matters referred to in subsection (1)(c) and (d).

3.4.44B Review of costs by reference to practitioner remuneration order or scale of costs

The Taxing Master must review the amount of any disputed costs that are subject to a practitioner remuneration order or scale of costs by reference to the order or scale.

3.4.45 Costs of review

(1) The Taxing Master must determine the costs of a costs review.

(2) Unless the Taxing Master otherwise orders and subject to subsection (3), the law practice to which the legal costs are payable or were paid must pay the costs of the review if——

(a) on the review the legal costs are reduced by 15% or more; or

(b) the Taxing Master is satisfied that the law practice failed to comply with Division 3.

(2A) Unless the Taxing Master otherwise orders and subject to subsection (3), if the law practice is not, under subsection (2), liable to pay the costs of the review, the costs of the review must be paid by the party ordered by the Taxing Master to pay those costs.

(3) The Taxing Master may refer to the Supreme Court any special circumstances relating to a costs review and the Court may make any order it thinks fit concerning the costs of the costs review.

3.4.46 Referral for disciplinary action

(1) If, on a costs review, the Taxing Master considers that the legal costs charged by a law practice are grossly excessive, the Taxing Master must refer the matter to the Commissioner to consider whether disciplinary action should be taken against any Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer involved.

(2) If the Taxing Master considers that a costs review raises any other matter that may amount to unsatisfactory professional conduct or professional misconduct on the part of an Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer, the Taxing Master may refer the matter to the Commissioner to consider whether disciplinary action should be taken against an Australian legal practitioner or Australian-registered foreign lawyer.

3.4.47 Appeal

A person may appeal to the Supreme Court from a decision of the Taxing Master, in accordance with the rules of the Supreme Court.

3.4.48 Legal costs subject to a civil complaint are not reviewable

Division 2—Defaults to which this Part applies

3.6.4 Meaning of relevant jurisdiction

(1) The relevant jurisdiction for an associate of a law practice whose act or omission (whether alone or with one or more other associates of the practice) gives rise to or constitutes a default of the practice is to be determined under this section.

Note

The concept of an associate's "relevant jurisdiction" is used to determine the jurisdiction whose Fidelity Fund is liable for a default of a law practice arising from an act or omission committed by the associate. The relevant jurisdiction for an associate is in some cases the associate's home jurisdiction.

(2) In the case of a default involving trust money received in Australia (whether or not it was paid into an Australian trust account), the relevant jurisdiction for the associate is—

(a) if the trust money was paid into an Australian trust account and if the associate (whether alone or with a co-signatory) was authorised to withdraw any or all of the trust money from the only or last Australian trust account in which the trust money was held before the default—the jurisdiction under whose law that trust account was maintained; or

(b) in any other case—the associate's home jurisdiction.

(3) In the case of a default involving trust money received outside Australia and paid into an Australian trust account, the relevant jurisdiction for the associate is—
(a) if the associate (whether alone or with a co-signatory) was authorised to withdraw any or all of the trust money from the only or last Australian trust account in which the trust money was held before the default—the jurisdiction under whose law that trust account was maintained; or

(b) in any other case—the associate's home jurisdiction.

(4) In the case of a default involving trust property received in Australia, or received outside Australia and brought to Australia, the relevant jurisdiction for the associate is the associate's home jurisdiction.

Note
Section 3.6.31 may treat the default as consisting of two or more defaults for the purpose of determining the liability of the Fidelity Fund.

3.6.5 Defaults to which this Part applies

(1) This Part applies to—

(a) a default of a law practice arising from or constituted by an act or omission of one or more associates of the practice, if this jurisdiction is the relevant jurisdiction for the only associate or one or more of the associates involved; or

(b) a default of an approved clerk.

(2) It is immaterial where the default occurs.

(3) It is immaterial that the act or omission giving rise to or constituting a default does not constitute a crime or other offence under the law of this or any other jurisdiction or of the Commonwealth or that proceedings have not been commenced or concluded in relation to a crime or other offence of that kind.
3.6.6 Defaults relating to financial services or investments

(1) This Part does not apply to a default of a law practice to the extent that the default occurs in relation to money or property that is entrusted to or held by the practice for or in connection with—

(a) a financial service provided by the practice or an associate of the practice in circumstances where the practice or associate is required to hold an Australian financial services licence covering the provision of the service (whether or not such a licence is held at any relevant time); or

(b) a financial service provided by the practice or an associate of the practice in circumstances where the practice or associate provides the service as a representative of another person who carries on a financial services business (whether or not the practice or associate is an authorised representative at any relevant time).

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), this Part does not apply to a default of a law practice to the extent that the default occurs in relation to money or property that is entrusted to or held by the practice for or in connection with—

(a) a managed investment scheme undertaken by the practice; or

(3) Without limiting subsection (1) or (2), this Part does not apply to a default of a law practice to the extent that the default occurs in relation to money or property that is entrusted to or held by the practice for investment purposes, whether on its own account or as agent, unless—
(a) the money or property was entrusted to or held by the practice—
   (i) in the ordinary course of legal practice; and
   (ii) primarily in connection with the provision of legal services to or at the direction of the client; and

(b) the investment is or is to be made—
   (i) in the ordinary course of legal practice; and
   (ii) for the ancillary purpose of maintaining or enhancing the value of the money or property pending completion of the matter or further stages of the matter or pending payment or delivery of the money or property to or at the direction of the client.

(4) In this section Australian financial services licence, authorised representative, financial services and financial services business have the same meanings as in Chapter 7 of the Corporations Act.

Division 3—Claims about defaults

3.6.7 Claims about defaults

(1) A person who suffers pecuniary loss because of a default to which this Part applies may make a claim against the Fidelity Fund to the Board about the default.

(2) A claim is to be made in writing in a form approved by the Board.
(3) The Board may require the person who makes a claim to do either or both of the following—

(a) to give further information about the claim or any dispute to which the claim relates;

(b) to verify the claim or any further information, by statutory declaration.

3.6.8 Time limit for making claims

(1) Subject to section 3.6.10, a claim does not lie against the Fidelity Fund unless the prospective claimant notifies the Board of the default concerned—

(a) within the period of 6 months after the prospective claimant becomes aware of the default; or

(b) within a further period allowed by the Board; or

(c) if the Supreme Court allows further time after the Board refuses to do so—within a period allowed by the Supreme Court.

(2) The Supreme Court or Board may allow a further period referred to in subsection (1) if satisfied that—

(a) it would be reasonable to do so after taking into account all ascertained and contingent liabilities of the Fidelity Fund; and

(b) it would be appropriate to do so in a particular case having regard to matters the Supreme Court or Board considers relevant.
3.6.9 Advertisements

(1) If the Board considers that there has been, or may have been, a default by a law practice or an approved clerk, the Board may publish either or both of the following—

(a) a notice that seeks information about the default;

(b) a notice that invites claims about the default and fixes a final date after which claims relating to the default cannot be made.

(2) The final date fixed by a notice must be a date that is—

(a) at least 3 months later than the date of the first or only publication of the notice; and

(b) not more than 12 months after the date of that first or only publication.

(3) A notice in respect of a default by a law practice must be published—

(a) in a newspaper circulating generally throughout Australia; and

(b) in a newspaper circulating generally in each jurisdiction where the law practice—

(i) has an office; or

(ii) at any relevant time had an office—

if known to the appropriate authority; and

(c) on the Internet site (if any) of the Board.

(4) A notice in respect of a default by an approved clerk must be published—

(a) in a newspaper circulating generally throughout this jurisdiction; and

(b) on the Internet site (if any) of the Board.
(5) The Board may provide information to persons making inquiries in response to a notice published under this section.

(6) Apart from extending the period during which claims can be made under this Part (where relevant), publication of a notice under this section does not confer any entitlements in relation to any claim or the default to which it relates or provide any grounds affecting the determination of any claim.

(7) A protected person is not personally liable for anything necessarily or reasonably done or omitted to be done in good faith in connection with the publication of a notice under this section.

(8) In this section—

protected person means—

(a) the Board or a member of the Board; or
(b) the proprietor, editor or publisher of the newspaper; or
(c) an internet service provider or internet content host; or
(d) a person acting at the direction of any person or entity referred to in paragraphs (a) to (c).

3.6.10 Time limit for making claims following advertisement

(1) This section applies if the Board publishes a notice under section 3.6.9 fixing a final date after which claims relating to a default cannot be made.

(2) A claim may be made—

(a) up to and including the final date fixed under the notice; or
(b) within a further period allowed by the Board; or

(c) if the Supreme Court allows further time after the Board refuses to do so—within a period allowed by the Supreme Court.

(3) Subsection (2) applies even though the claim would have been barred under section 3.6.8 had the notice not been published.

3.6.11 Claims not affected by certain matters

(1) A claim may be made about a law practice's default despite a change in the status of the practice or the associate concerned after the occurrence of the act or omission from which the default arose or that constituted the default.

(2) A claim that has been made is not affected by a later change in the status of the practice or associate.

(3) For the purposes of this section, a change in status includes—

(a) a change in the membership or staffing or the dissolution of the practice (in the case of a partnership); and

(b) a change in the directorship or staffing or the winding up or dissolution of the practice (in the case of an incorporated legal practice); and

(c) the fact that the associate had ceased to engage in legal practice or to hold an Australian practising certificate (in the case of an associate who was an Australian legal practitioner); and

(d) the death of the associate.
3.6.12 Investigation of claims

(1) The Board may investigate a claim made to it, including the default to which it relates, in any manner it considers appropriate.

(2) The Board may at any time require a claimant to produce or deliver any security, document or statement of evidence necessary or available—

(a) to support a claim; or

(b) to enable the Board to exercise its rights against any law practice, associate, approved clerk or other person concerned; or

(c) to enable the criminal proceeding to be commenced against a person who committed a default.

(3) The Board may disallow a claim if a requirement under subsection (2) is not complied with.

3.6.13 Advance payments

(1) The Board may, at its absolute discretion, make payments to a claimant in advance of the determination of a claim if satisfied that—

(a) the claim is likely to be allowed; and

(b) payment is warranted to alleviate hardship.

(2) Any payments made in advance are to be taken into account when the claim is determined.

(3) Payments under this section are to be made from the Fidelity Fund.

(4) If the claim is disallowed, the amounts paid under this section are recoverable by the Board as a debt due to the Board.

(5) If the claim is allowed but the amount payable is less than the amount paid under this section, the excess paid under this section is recoverable by the Board as a debt due to the Board.
(6) Amounts recovered under subsection (4) or (5) must be paid into the Fidelity Fund.

Division 4—Determination of claims

3.6.14 Determination of claims

(1) The Board may determine a claim by wholly or partly allowing or disallowing it, or otherwise settling it.

(2) The Board may disallow a claim to the extent that the claim does not relate to a default for which the Fidelity Fund is liable.

(3) The Board may wholly or partly disallow a claim, or reduce a claim, to the extent that—

(a) the claimant knowingly assisted in or contributed towards, or was a party or accessory to, the act or omission giving rise to the claim; or

(b) the negligence of the claimant contributed to the loss; or

(c) the conduct of the transaction with the law practice or approved clerk in relation to whom the claim is made was illegal, and the claimant knew or ought reasonably to have known of that illegality; or

(d) proper and usual records were not brought into existence during the conduct of the transaction, or were destroyed, and the claimant knew or ought reasonably to have known that records of that kind would not be kept or would be destroyed; or

(e) the claimant has unreasonably refused to disclose information or documents to or co-operate with the Board or its delegate in the investigation of the claim.
(4) Subsections (2) and (3) do not limit the Board's power to disallow a claim on any other ground.

(5) Without limiting subsection (2) or (3), the Board may reduce the amount otherwise payable on a claim to the extent the Board considers appropriate—

(a) if satisfied that the claimant assisted in or contributed towards, or was a party or accessory to, the act or omission giving rise to the claim; or

(b) if satisfied that the claimant unreasonably failed to mitigate losses arising from the act or omission giving rise to the claim; or

(c) if satisfied that the claimant has unreasonably hindered the investigation of the claim.

(6) If satisfied that the act or omission giving rise to a claim actually occurred, the Board may allow the claim despite the fact that—

(a) the person who committed the act or omission has not been charged with, or found guilty of, an offence in respect of the default; or

(b) the evidence on which the Board is acting would not be sufficient to establish the guilt of that person in a criminal proceeding in respect of the default.

(7) In allowing a claim, the Board must specify the amount payable.

3.6.15 Maximum amount allowable

(1) The amount payable to a person in respect of a default must not exceed the amount of the person's actual pecuniary loss resulting from the default.
(2) This section is subject to section 3.6.18.

(3) This section does not apply to costs payable under section 3.6.16 or to interest payable under section 3.6.17.

3.6.16 Costs

(1) If the Board wholly or partly allows a claim, the Board must order payment of the claimant's reasonable legal costs involved in making and proving the claim, unless the Board considers that special circumstances exist warranting a reduction in the amount of costs or warranting a determination that no amount should be paid for costs.

(2) If the Board wholly disallows a claim, the Board may order payment of the whole or part of the claimant's reasonable legal costs involved in making and attempting to prove the claim, if the Board considers it is appropriate to make the order.

(3) The costs are to be assessed on a solicitor and client basis as if they were costs in a proceeding in a court that would have jurisdiction to hear and determine the claim if the claim were a claim for a debt.

(4) The costs are payable from the Fidelity Fund.

3.6.17 Interest

(1) In determining the amount of pecuniary loss resulting from a default, the Board is to add interest on the amount payable (excluding interest), unless the Board considers that special circumstances exist warranting a reduction in the amount of interest or warranting a determination that no amount should be paid by way of interest.
(2) The interest is to be calculated from the date on which the claim was made, to the date the Board notifies the claimant that the claim has been allowed, at the rate calculated in accordance with the method determined by the Attorney-General from time to time and published in the Government Gazette.

(3) To the extent that no determination is in force for the purposes of subsection (2), interest is to be calculated at the rate of 5%.

(4) The interest is payable from the Fidelity Fund.

3.6.18 Reduction of claim because of other benefits

(1) A person is not entitled to recover from the Fidelity Fund any amount equal to amounts or to the value of other benefits—

(a) that have already been paid to or received by the person; or

(b) that have already been determined and are payable to or receivable by the person; or

(c) that (in the opinion of the Board) are likely to be paid to or received by the person; or

(d) that (in the opinion of the Board) might, but for neglect or failure on the person's part, have been paid or payable to or received or receivable by the person—from other sources in respect of the pecuniary loss to which a claim relates.

(2) The Board may, at its absolute discretion, pay to a person the whole or part of an amount referred to in subsection (1)(c) if satisfied that payment is warranted to alleviate hardship, but nothing in this subsection affects section 3.6.20.
3.6.19 Subrogation

(1) On payment of a claim from the Fidelity Fund, the Board is subrogated to the rights and remedies of the claimant against any person in relation to the default to which the claim relates.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), that subsection extends to a right or remedy against—
   (a) the associate or person in respect of whom the claim is made; or
   (b) the person authorised to administer the estate of the associate or person in respect of whom the claim is made and who is deceased or an insolvent under administration.

(3) Subsection (1) does not apply to a right or remedy against an associate if, had the associate or person been a claimant in respect of the default, the claim would not be disallowed on any of the grounds set out in section 3.6.14(3).

(4) The Board may exercise its rights and remedies under this section in its own name or in the name of the claimant.

(5) If the Board brings proceedings under this section in the name of the claimant, it must indemnify the claimant against any costs awarded against the claimant in the proceedings.

(6) The Board may exercise its rights and remedies under this section even though any limitation periods under this Part have expired.

(7) The Board must pay into the Fidelity Fund any money recovered in exercising its rights and remedies under this section.
3.6.20 Repayment of certain amounts

(1) If a claimant—

(a) receives a payment from the Fidelity Fund in respect of the claim; and

(b) receives or recovers from another source a payment on account of the pecuniary loss; and

(c) there is a surplus after deducting the amount of the pecuniary loss from the total amount received or recovered by the claimant from both sources—

the amount of the surplus is a debt payable by the claimant to the Fund.

(2) However, the amount payable by the claimant cannot exceed the amount the claimant received from the Fidelity Fund in respect of the claim.

(3) A claimant must notify the Board of the receipt or recovery of a payment referred to in subsection (1)(b) within 60 days after the receipt or recovery.

Penalty: 60 penalty units.

3.6.21 Notification of delay in making decision

(1) If the Board considers that a claim is not likely to be determined within 12 months after the claim was made, the Board must notify the claimant in writing that the claim is not likely to be determined within that period.

(2) The notification must contain a brief statement of reasons for the delay.
3.6.22 Notification of decision

(1) The Board must, as soon as practicable, notify the claimant about any decision it makes about the claim.

(2) The notification must contain an information notice about—

(a) a decision of the Board to wholly or partly disallow a claim; or

(b) a decision of the Board to reduce the amount allowed in respect of a claim.

3.6.23 Appeal against decision on claim

(1) A claimant may appeal to an appropriate court against—

(a) a decision of the Board to wholly or partly disallow a claim; or

(b) a decision of the Board to reduce the amount allowed in respect of a claim—

but an appeal does not lie against a decision of the Board to limit the amount payable, or to decline to pay an amount, under the capping and sufficiency provisions of this jurisdiction.

(2) An appeal against a decision must be lodged within 30 days after receiving the information notice about the decision.

(3) On an appeal under this section—

(a) the appellant must establish that the whole or part of the amount sought to be recovered from the Fidelity Fund is not reasonably available from other sources, unless the Board waives that requirement; and
(b) the appropriate court may, on application by the Board, stay the appeal pending further action being taken to seek recovery of the whole or part of that amount from other sources.

(4) The appropriate court may review the merits of the Board's decision.

(5) The appropriate court may—

(a) affirm the decision; or

(b) if satisfied that the reasons for varying or setting aside the Board's decision are sufficiently cogent to warrant doing so—

(i) vary the decision; or

(ii) set aside the decision and make a decision in substitution for the decision set aside; or

(iii) set aside the decision and remit the matter for reconsideration by the Board in accordance with any directions or recommendations of the court.

(6) The appropriate court may make other orders as it thinks fit.

(7) No order for costs is to be made on an appeal under this section unless the appropriate court is satisfied that an order for costs should be made in the interests of justice.

(8) In this section—

appropriate court means a court that would have jurisdiction to determine the claim if it were a claim for a debt owing to the claimant.
3.6.24 Appeal against failure to determine claim

(1) A claimant may appeal to an appropriate court against a failure of the Board to determine a claim after 12 months after the claim was made.

(2) An appeal against failure to determine a claim may be made at any time after the period of 12 months after the claim was made and while the failure continues.

(3) On an appeal under this section—
   (a) the appellant must establish that the whole or part of the amount sought to be recovered from the Fidelity Fund is not reasonably available from other sources, unless the Board waives that requirement; and
   (b) the appropriate court may, on application by the Board, stay the appeal pending further action being taken to seek recovery of the whole or part of that amount from other sources.

(4) The appropriate court may determine the appeal—
   (a) by—
      (i) giving directions to the Board for the expeditious determination of the matter; and
      (ii) if the court is satisfied that there has been unreasonable delay—ordering that interest be paid at a specified rate that is higher than the rate applicable under section 3.6.17, until further order or the determination of the claim; and
(iii) if the court is satisfied that there has not been unreasonable delay—ordering that, if delay continues in circumstances of a specified kind, interest be paid for a specified period at a specified rate that is higher than the rate applicable under section 3.6.17, until further order or the determination of the claim; or

(b) by deciding not to give directions or make orders under paragraph (a).

(5) No order for costs is to be made on an appeal under this section unless the appropriate court is satisfied that an order for costs should be made in the interests of justice.

(6) In this section—appropriate court has the same meaning as in section 3.6.23.

3.6.25 Court proceedings

In any proceedings brought in a court under section 3.6.19 or 3.6.23—

(a) evidence of any admission or confession by, or other evidence that would be admissible against, an Australian legal practitioner or other person with respect to an act or omission giving rise to a claim is admissible to prove the act or omission despite the fact that the practitioner or other person is not a defendant in, or a party to, the proceedings; and

(b) any defence that would have been available to the practitioner or other person is available to the Board.
Division 5—Payments from Fidelity Fund for defaults

3.6.26 Caps on payments

(1) The regulations may fix either or both of the following—

(a) the maximum amounts, or the method of calculating maximum amounts, that may be paid from the Fidelity Fund in respect of individual claims or classes of individual claims;

(b) the maximum aggregate amount, or the method of calculating the maximum aggregate amount, that may be paid from the Fidelity Fund in respect of all claims made in relation to individual law practices or approved clerks or classes of law practices or approved clerks.

(2) Amounts must not be paid from the Fidelity Fund that exceed the amounts fixed, or calculated by a method fixed, under subsection (1).

(3) Payments from the Fidelity Fund in accordance with subsection (2) are made in full and final settlement of the claims concerned.

(4) Despite subsection (2), the Board may authorise payment of a larger amount if satisfied that it would be reasonable to do so after taking into account the position of the Fidelity Fund and the circumstances of the particular case.

(5) No proceedings can be brought, by way of appeal or otherwise, to require the payment of a larger amount or to require the Board to consider payment of a larger amount.
3.6.27 Sufficiency of Fidelity Fund

(1) If the Board is of the opinion that the Fidelity Fund is likely to be insufficient to meet the Fund's ascertained and contingent liabilities, the Board may do any or all of the following—

(a) postpone all payments relating to all or any class of claims out of the Fund;

(b) impose a levy under Division 3 of Part 6.7;

(c) make partial payments of the amounts of one or more allowed claims out of the Fund with payment of the balance being a charge on the Fund;

(d) make partial payments of the amounts of 2 or more allowed claims out of the Fund on a pro rata basis, with payment of the balance ceasing to be a liability of the Fund.

(2) In deciding whether to do any or all of the things mentioned in subsection (1), the Board—

(a) must have regard to hardship where relevant information is known to the Board; and

(b) must endeavour to treat outstanding claims equally and equitably, but may make special adjustments in cases of hardship.

(3) If the Board declares that a decision is made under subsection (1)(d)—

(a) the balance specified in the declaration ceases to be a liability of the Fidelity Fund; and

(b) the Board may (but need not) at any time revoke the declaration in relation to either the whole or a specified part of the balance, and the balance or that part of the balance again becomes a liability of the Fund.
(4) A decision of the Board made under this section is final and not subject to appeal or review.

Division 6—Claims by law practices or associates

3.6.28 Claims by law practices or associates about defaults

(1) This section applies to a default of a law practice arising from an act or omission of an associate of the practice.

(2) A claim may be made under section 3.6.7 by another associate of the law practice, if the associate suffers pecuniary loss because of the default.

(3) A claim may be made under section 3.6.10 by the law practice, if the law practice is an incorporated legal practitioner and it suffers pecuniary loss because of the default.

3.6.29 Claims by law practices or associates about notional defaults

(1) This section applies if a default of a law practice arising from an act or omission of an associate of the practice was avoided, remedied or reduced by a financial contribution made by the practice or by one or more other associates.

(2) The default, to the extent that it was avoided, remedied or reduced, is referred to in this section as a notional default.

(3) This Part applies to a notional default in the same way as it applies to other defaults of law practices, but only the law practice or the other associate or associates concerned are eligible to make claims about the notional default.
Division 7—Defaults involving interstate elements

3.6.30 Concerted interstate defaults

(1) The Board may treat a concerted interstate default as if the default consisted of 2 or more separate defaults—

(a) one of which is a default to which this Part applies, if this jurisdiction is the relevant jurisdiction for one or more of the associates involved; and

(b) the other or others of which are defaults to which this Part does not apply, if another jurisdiction or jurisdictions are the relevant jurisdictions for one or more of the associates involved.

(2) The Board may treat a claim about a concerted interstate default as if the claim consisted of—

(a) one or more claims made under this Part; and

(b) one or more claims made under a corresponding law or laws.

(3) A claim about a concerted interstate default is to be assessed on the basis that the fidelity funds of the relevant jurisdictions involved are to contribute—

(a) in equal shares in respect of the default, regardless of the number of associates involved in each of those jurisdictions, and disregarding the capping and sufficiency provisions of those jurisdictions; or

(b) in other shares as agreed by the Board and the corresponding authority or authorities involved.
(4) Subsection (3) does not affect the application of the capping and sufficiency provisions of this jurisdiction in respect of the amount payable from the Fidelity Fund after the claim has been assessed.

3.6.31 Defaults involving interstate elements if committed by one associate only

(1) This section applies to a default of a law practice arising from or constituted by an act or omission that was committed by only one associate of the practice, if the default involves more than one of the cases referred to in section 3.6.4(2), (3) or (4).

(2) The Board may treat a default to which this section applies if the default consisted of 2 or more separate defaults—

(a) one of which is a default to which this Part applies, if this jurisdiction is the relevant jurisdiction; and

(b) the other or others of which are defaults to which this Part does not apply, if another jurisdiction or jurisdictions are the relevant jurisdictions.

(3) The Board may treat a claim about the default as if the claim consisted of—

(a) one or more claims made under this Part; and

(b) one or more claims made under a corresponding law or laws.

(4) A claim about a default to which this section applies is to be assessed on the basis that the fidelity funds of the relevant jurisdictions involved are to contribute—

(a) in equal shares in respect of the default, and disregarding the capping and sufficiency provisions of those jurisdictions; or
(b) in other shares as agreed by the Board and the corresponding authority or authorities involved.

(5) Subsection (4) does not affect the application of the capping and sufficiency provisions of this jurisdiction in respect of the amount payable from the Fidelity Fund after the claim has been assessed.

Division 8—Inter-jurisdictional provisions

3.6.32 Protocols

(1) The regulations may authorise the Board to enter into arrangements (protocals) with corresponding authorities for or with respect to matters to which this Part relates.

(2) Without limiting subsection (1), the regulations may authorise the making of a protocol that provides that the Board is taken to have—

(a) requested a corresponding authority to act as agent of the Board in specified classes of cases; or

(b) agreed to act as agent of a corresponding authority in specified classes of cases.

(3) The regulations may—

(a) provide for the amendment, revocation or replacement of protocols; and

3.6.33 Forwarding of claims

(1) If a claim is made to the Board about a default that appears to be a default to which a corresponding law applies, the Board must forward the claim or a copy of it to a corresponding authority of the jurisdiction concerned.

(2) If a claim is made to a corresponding authority about a default that appears to be a default to which this Part applies and the claim or a copy of it is forwarded under a corresponding law to the Board by the corresponding authority, the claim is taken—

(a) to have been made under this Part; and

(b) to have been so made when the claim was received by the corresponding authority.

3.6.34 Investigation of defaults to which this Part applies

(1) This section applies if a default appears to be a default to which this Part applies and to have—

(a) occurred solely in another jurisdiction; or

(b) occurred in more than one jurisdiction; or

(c) occurred in circumstances in which it cannot be determined precisely in which jurisdiction the default occurred.

(2) The Board may request a corresponding authority or corresponding authorities to act as agent or agents for the Board, for the purpose of processing or investigating a claim about the default or aspects of the claim.

(2) The Board may act as agent of a corresponding authority, if requested to do so by the corresponding authority, for the purpose of processing or investigating a claim about the default or aspects of the claim.

(3) If the Board agrees to act as agent of a corresponding authority under subsection (2), the Board may perform any of its functions in relation to processing or investigating the claim or aspects of the claim as if the claim had been made under this Part.

3.6.36 Investigation of concerted interstate defaults and other defaults involving interstate elements

(1) This section applies if either of the following appears to have occurred—

(a) a concerted interstate default appears to have occurred; or
(b) a default to which section 3.6.31 applies.

(2) The Board may request a corresponding authority or corresponding authorities to act as agent or agents for the Board, for the purpose of processing or investigating a claim about the default or aspects of the claim.

(4) If the Board agrees to act as agent of a corresponding authority under subsection (3), the Board may perform any of its functions in relation to processing or investigating the claim or aspects of the claim as if the claim had been made entirely under this Part.

3.6.37 Recommendations by Board to corresponding authorities

If the Board is acting as agent of a corresponding authority in relation to a claim made under a corresponding law, the Board may make recommendations about the decision the corresponding authority might make about the claim.

3.6.38 Recommendations to and decisions by Board after receiving recommendations from corresponding authorities

(1) If a corresponding authority makes recommendations about the decision the Board might make about a claim in relation to which the corresponding authority was acting as agent of the Board, the Board may—

(a) make its decision about the claim in conformity with the recommendations, whether with or without further consideration, investigation or inquiry; or

(b) disregard the recommendations.

(2) A corresponding authority cannot, as agent of the Board, make a decision about the claim under Division 4.
3.639  Request to another jurisdiction to investigate aspects of claim

(2) For the purposes of the application of the provisions of this Part, and any other provisions of this Act or any legal profession rule relating to the Fidelity Fund, to an incorporated legal practice, a reference in those provisions to a default of a law practice extends to a default of an incorporated legal practice, but only if it occurs in connection with the provision of legal services.

(3) Nothing in this section affects any obligation of an Australian legal practitioner who is an officer or employee of an incorporated legal practice to comply with the provisions of this Act or any legal profession rule relating to the Fidelity Fund.
3.6.43 Application of Part to multi-disciplinary partnerships

(1) The regulations may provide that specified provisions of this Part, and any other provisions of this Act or any legal profession rule relating to the Fidelity Fund, do not apply to multi-disciplinary partnerships or apply to them with specified modifications.

3.6.44 Application of Part to sole practitioners whose practising certificates lapse

(1) This section applies if an Australian lawyer is not an Australian legal practitioner because his or her Australian practising certificate has lapsed and the lawyer was a sole practitioner immediately before the certificate lapsed, but does not apply if—

Note

Section 4.4.4 specifies conduct that is capable of constituting professional misconduct and section 4.4.6 specifies conduct that constitutes professional misconduct.

(2) For the purpose of finding that an Australian legal practitioner is not a fit and proper person to engage in legal practice as mentioned in subsection (1), regard may be had to the suitability matters that would be considered if the practitioner were an applicant for admission to the legal profession under this Act or for the grant or renewal of a local practising certificate.

(g) conduct of an Australian legal practitioner in failing to comply with a compensation order made under this Act or a corresponding law.
4.4.5 Conduct that constitutes unsatisfactory professional conduct

(1) Without limiting section 4.4.2 or 4.4.4, failure by an Australian legal practitioner to comply with a condition of his or her practising certificate constitutes unsatisfactory professional conduct.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the failure amounts to professional misconduct.

(5) The Commissioner must pay the reasonable costs incurred by a prescribed investigatory body in conducting an investigation and reporting to the Commissioner under this Division.

in the same way as it applies to law practices.
PART 5.2—INITIATION OF EXTERNAL INTERVENTION

5.2.1 Circumstances warranting external intervention

External intervention may take place in relation to a law practice in any of the following circumstances—

(iii) that there is a need for an independent person to be appointed to take over professional and operational responsibility for the practice; or

(i) that the appointment is necessary to protect the interests of clients in relation to trust money or trust property; or

(ii) that it may be appropriate that the provision of legal services by the practice be wound up and terminated.

(3) The Board may, from time to time, make further determinations in relation to the law practice and for that purpose may revoke a previous determination with effect from a date or event specified by the Board.

(4) A further determination may be made under subsection (3) whether or not there has been any change in the circumstances in consequence of which the original determination was made and whether or not any further circumstances have come into existence in relation to the law practice after the original determination was made.

(5) An appointment of an external intervener for a law practice may be made in respect of the practice generally or may be limited in any way the Board, or in the case of a receiver, the Supreme Court, considers appropriate, including for example to matters connected with a particular legal practitioner associate or to matters connected with a particular office or a particular subject-matter.
